East German Reds Holding U.S. Airman Berlin Dispute Sharpened By Pilot's Capture

BERLIN (AP) — The East-West dispute over Berlin sharpened Friday with detention of a U.S. Army pilot by the East German Communists.

The capture of Lt. Richard Mackin of Washington, D.C., was belatedly acknowledged two days after he became lost on a flight near the East-West border and radioed he was having to bail out.

An East German official hinted the American might be used as a hostage to aid the satellite regime's drive for recognition by the Western powers. U.S. officials in Berlin at once made clear they would not negotiate with the East Germans.

The explosive issue in the Berlin crisis centers on Western refusal to negotiate with the East Germans—even on the right of access to this isolated city 110 miles inside East Germany.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, here to rally the West Berliners against the Communist threat, declared that the United States, Britain and France would stick by their pledges to Berlin.

NO RECOGNITION
Aside from the promise to defend the city against attack, the Allies are committed to avoid any recognition of the East German regime.

After conferring with Adenauer and Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano, West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said he told the Chancellor his administration will give a clear "no" to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal to make West Berlin a neutral, free city.

In London, the British Foreign Office disclosed Khrushchev had replied to Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's note of Nov. 22 declaring Britain intended to stay put in Berlin. No details were disclosed but it was understood there was no change in Khrushchev's position.

In Moscow, the Communist party newspaper Pravda said nothing could interfere with the Soviet plans for West Berlin. Pravda accused Adenauer of using the Berlin crisis in an attempt to get control of East Germany and called him "an insidious dangerous adventurer in Europe."

In Bonn, political officers from the U.S., British and French embassies met with officials of the West German Foreign Office.

Film Stunt Man Dies After Fall In Movie Scene

NATCHITOCHES, La. (AP) — Fred Kennedy, 48, character actor and movie stunt man for more than 25 years, was killed today when he fell from a horse in a final scene for "The Horse Soldiers."

Kennedy was dead when brought to Natchitoches Parish Hospital. He was supposed to fall from his horse and Constance Towers, the feminine lead in the United Artists picture, was supposed to run over and kiss him and climax a gag that ran through the picture.

Miss Towers leaned over Kennedy and saw he was gasping for breath.

Director John Ford and a physician rushed over to Kennedy. He was given oxygen with equipment kept standing by and rushed to the hospital here.

The scene was the final one to be shot for the picture here. The Mahin-Rackin group began preparing to leave Saturday by plane for Hollywood.

John Wayne and William Holden starred in the Civil War picture. Fellow stuntmen said Kennedy's neck was broken two years ago, but the break had healed.

Kennedy has a brother, "Bull" Kennedy, who also works for the moving picture firm. Officials were attempting to locate him today.

ANGRIPLY PROTESTS SUBPOENA Alabama Judge Refuses To Give Up Vote Records

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A belligerent Alabama judge Friday defied the Civil Rights Commission to make him surrender voter registration records in his custody.

Circuit Judge George Wallace at Clayton, Ala., threatened to jail any commission agent who tries to get possession of the impounded files for next week's hearing on Negro voting.

Protesting angrily that a subpoena issued by the commission for the voting records of two counties challenged the authority of his court, Wallace said emphatically that he will not answer the summons.

But he declined to say what he might do later if a federal judge orders him to produce the records. The commission can ask the Justice Department to cite a writ of habeas corpus for contempt in federal court.

Registration files dating back three years have been subpoenaed for Monday's hearing from each of the six Alabama counties where the commission is investigating complaints of racial discrimination.

Agents serving the papers in Barbour and Bullock counties found the records had been impounded by Wallace on petitions charging fraud in the registration of some voters and in attempts to register others.

DEMAND FILES
So the commission wrote a new subpoena directed to Wallace and formally demanded the files from him.

Resistance of a less spectacular nature has come also from the other four counties — Dallas, Lowndes, Macon and Wilcox — where Negroes have filed complaints against registration officials.

Alabama Atty. Gen. John Patterson, who becomes governor Jan. 19, has advised the county boards of registrars to withhold the records on the grounds they are private and confidential files which cannot be touched even by court order.

Army Fires Huge Space Probe Craft Hope Satellite To Reach Orbit Around Sun

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A huge, bullet-shaped Army rocket thundered skyward early Saturday, carrying space probe Pioneer III on a journey that could cover almost half a million miles.

The mission of this first of two Army space tests was to blast a 13-pound satellite past the moon and deep into outer space where it could swing into an orbit around the sun.

If the daring slab into space is successful, Pioneer III would travel farther than any other man-made object and become the first artificial planet.

The powerful Juno II missile roared aloft with a dazzling flash of white flame and smoke at 12:45 A.M. EST.

The 76-foot space craft climbed ponderously at first into the starless Florida sky, but seconds later it began to accelerate rapidly.

After about 60 seconds, the rocket's nose curved gracefully and arched toward the northeast.

Probe Asked Of Write-In Election Win

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A protesting voter said Friday he had formally asked a congressional committee to investigate the general election victory of write-in segregationist Dr. Dale Alford over Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.), a racial moderate.

John F. Wells, publisher of the weekly Arkansas Recorder, said such an investigation would uncover evidence of law violations in voting and counting, a disregard of state and federal corrupt practices laws and a conspiracy involving Gov. Orval E. Faubus to overturn the will of the majority of Democrats.

Wells said his petition had been mailed to Chairman Clifford Davis (D-Tenn.) of the House special committee to investigate campaign expenditures.

Identifying himself as one who voted for Hays, Wells asked the committee to recount the ballots and determine the extent of irregularities and their effect on the outcome and determine Alford's qualifications to serve in Congress.

"The committee may make recommendations to the full House, which has the constitutional authority to determine the qualifications of its members."

Alford, a member of the Little Rock School Board, launched an intensive, final-week write-in campaign against Hays, who had won Democratic nomination to a ninth term from the 5th Congressional District. Alford termed himself an independent Democrat.

The physician ran as a staunch segregationist, charging that Hays' moderation on the racial issue meant "only integration for us."

With the apparent tacit support of Faubus, Alford unseated Hays by a margin of approximately 1,300 votes out of 60,000.

Although Hays said he would not protest the election, Wells twice asked local authorities to investigate his petition to the Pulaski County Board of Election Commissioners was not answered officially. A similar appeal to the State Board of Election Commissioners was rejected.

Wells charged that more votes were counted in several precincts than there were qualified voters. He sought to implicate Faubus in a conspiracy by pointing out that Alford's campaign manager was Claude Carpenter Jr., a close associate of the governor.

Hays has repeatedly blamed his defeat on Faubus' influence.

Truman Differs With Butler On Role Of South

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman said Friday he believed the Democratic party will have a strong civil rights plank in its 1960 platform and that the South will not run out on the party.

However, he said he did not agree with Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler who said recently the South could either accept a strong plank on the civil rights issue or get out of the party.

"I think the civil rights plank we had in 1956 was a good one," said Truman. "The South stayed with it and it will again."

Thor Rocket Test Firing Spectacular

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force, rushing to establish the fiery Thor rocket as this country's intermediate-range ballistic missile, fired another of the spectacular, 55-ton test weapons Friday night.

The powerful Thor blasted off beautifully. The first burst of its exhaust flame cast a brilliant orange glow over low-flying cloud banks above this missile test center.

Rising slowly at first, trailing a giant ball of flame, it lit up miles of the Florida coast as it climbed toward the first bank of clouds.

Two and one-half minutes after the blastoff, its fuel burned out and it finally disappeared from view toward the southeast.

This was the 21st Thor to blast off from the missile test center here and the second in eight days.

The firing schedule has been stepped up since Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy reported that the decision on whether to make the Thor or the Army's Jupiter the top IRBM would be announced in December.

Of the 20 Thors fired before Friday night, 12 flew successfully. One traveled 2,400 miles.

Fire To Result In Wedding Bells

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — "I feel like it's a dream and I'll wake up and find it isn't so," Mrs. Oliver Cordrey said Friday.

She was referring to her marriage Saturday to an old friend, William S. Davis.

Mrs. Cordrey is 82. She has been a widow for 28 years. Davis, a retired producer broker is 84 and has been a widower for three years.

An apartment fire in which the bride-to-be lost all her possessions two weeks ago is responsible for the happy occasion.

Davis heard about Mrs. Cordrey's plight. He informed a mutual friend he'd be glad to give her a home if she'd consider it. The word got to Mrs. Cordrey almost immediately.

"I thought about it, talked about it with my friends, and stayed awake all night," she said.

The next day she said Davis a visit and "I decided to stay."

The couple, quite alert and in good health for their years, became engaged immediately and went quietly about planning for the ceremony.

Ouster Plea Is Rejected By 7-2 Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Credentials Committee rejected 7-2 Friday night a move to oust Camille F. Gravel Jr. as Louisiana national committee chairman.

In a decision reflecting national committee views on the explosive civil rights issue, the credentials group turned down a plea to seat Jett M. Talbot as Louisiana committee chairman.

Previously the Louisiana state committee had voted to oust Gravel because it contended he was out of step with Louisiana Democrats' opposition to integration. The state committee had chosen Talbot to succeed Gravel.

The credentials committee's decision, taken behind closed doors after a four-hour public hearing, was announced by Calvin Rawlings Jr., Utah national committee chairman, and chairman of the group.

Rawlings declined to name the two who supported the move to oust Gravel. It was learned from other committee members, however, that the two who supported the seating of Talbot were Edgar A. Brown of South Carolina and Mrs. John Garland Pollard of Virginia.

Besides Rawlings, other committee members who voted to retain Gravel as a member of the National Committee included Donald J. Mitchell of Iowa, Willa Mae Roberts of Missouri, Tracy S. McCracken of Wyoming, Mrs. U. D. Sawyer of New Mexico, Carmine De Sapio of New York and Eliza

Rites Scheduled For Mrs. Jordan, Monroe Resident

Final rites for Mrs. Emma Jordan, 84-year-old resident of Monroe, will be held this morning at 9:30 at Peters Funeral Home Chapel, conducted by the Rev. H. L. Sampson.

Mrs. Jordan died at the St. Joseph Home here Friday morning after a prolonged illness. She had lived at the convalescent home for the past 10 years. Prior to that, she resided with a son in New Orleans.

Another son, Ivy Jordan of Monroe, is well known for his active part in local civic affairs. He is also a member of the Monroe-Ouachita Regional Planning Commission.

Mrs. Jordan was born and reared in Vernon parish and was the last charter member of the Cooper Baptist Church in Leesville.

Interment will be in the Cooper Cemetery in Leesville under direction of Peters Funeral Home. Burial will be private.

Surviving are four sons, Ivy Jordan, Monroe; J. Luther Jordan Sr., Mansfield; John S. Jordan, New Orleans; W. G. Jordan, Memphis, Tenn.; six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

FATTIES UNDERDOGS

Skinny Favored In Eating Match

ROME (AP) — Italy's cooks—and they're the lads who ought to know—are putting their side bets on the leans to beat the fats in a nationwide challenge eating match.

The contest to see whether the skinny can outeat the fat is called for Dec. 13 in Bologna, a city where almost everybody stuffs at tabletime.

But if the cooks are right, some hollow-legged thins are favored to outeat the fabulous Carmen Gasparotto, Treviso's 375-pound mamma who boasts "I didn't get this way from being shy of a knife and fork."

Mighty Carmen is in there on the fat side, lined up in the first round against little Lina Zuffi who cases comfortably under the table at a slight 124 pounds, but is noted in her native city of Bologna as a girl who can polish off a terrific plateful.

Sponsors of the contest, held this year "just to settle some arguments," say that whoever wins, fat or lean, the event will be turned into an international challenge affair next year.

Boastful applications already are pouring in from the hungry lean and the fabulously fat. Table rules require that the thins weigh not over 165, and the fats no less than 210.

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — "I feel like it's a dream and I'll wake up and find it isn't so," Mrs. Oliver Cordrey said Friday.

She was referring to her marriage Saturday to an old friend, William S. Davis.

Mrs. Cordrey is 82. She has been a widow for 28 years. Davis, a retired producer broker is 84 and has been a widower for three years.

An apartment fire in which the bride-to-be lost all her possessions two weeks ago is responsible for the happy occasion.

Davis heard about Mrs. Cordrey's plight. He informed a mutual friend he'd be glad to give her a home if she'd consider it. The word got to Mrs. Cordrey almost immediately.

"I thought about it, talked about it with my friends, and stayed awake all night," she said.

The next day she said Davis a visit and "I decided to stay."

The couple, quite alert and in good health for their years, became engaged immediately and went quietly about planning for the ceremony.

GOOD FELLOWS REPORT

Many Seek Food, Clothes And Toys

A mother pleading for food for Christmas; a wife, asking for a warm coat for her ailing husband, and nothing for herself; a brother seeking food and clothing for his five younger brothers and sisters.

Those are typical of the letters streaming into the Good Fellows office. One mail delivery alone yesterday brought 13 such letters, seeking help for a total of 61 people.

In the same mail, was $40 in donations which brought the total to date to $505. But, as welcome as this is, it is far below the amount needed to bring a little Christmas to the needy of our area.

It is cheering to read some of the letters sent in with the donations. One lady was not able to Gloria has been in a coma-like state for almost two years. She is paralyzed. Her food is given her through a tube inserted in her nose. She can't make a sound—her voice box is useless.

"But after almost two years of looking at her lying there, last week we finally noticed that Gloria can work up just a trace of a smile," said Mrs. Miller.

What could such a youngster exact from her parents to spur the effort that brings a twinkle to her eyes—a smile to her lips?

"All we have to do is pat her head. Just stroke her hair. Maybe just hold her hand. That's all. Then she sometimes will smile. Not what most people would consider a smile. But we know it's a smile," the mother said.

FATTIES UNDERDOGS

Skinnies Favored In Eating Match

ROME (AP)—Italy's cooks—and the fat side, lined up in the first round against little Lina Zuffi who are putting their side bets on the lean side to beat the fats in a nationwide challenge eating match.

The contest to see whether the skinny can outeat the fat is called this year "Just to settle some arguments," say that whoever wins, fat or lean, the event will be a national affair next year.

But if the cooks are right, some hollow-legged thimble is favored to outeat the fabulous Carmen Gasparotto, Treviso's 375-pound mamma who boasts "I didn't get this way from being shy of a knife and fork."

Mighty Carmen is in there on than 210.

Rites Scheduled For Mrs. Jordan, Monroe Resident

Final rites for Mrs. Emma Jordan, 84-year-old resident of Monroe, will be held this morning at 9:30 at Peters Funeral Home Chapel, conducted by the Rev. H. L. Sampson.

Mrs. Jordan died at the St. Joseph Home here Friday morning after a prolonged illness. She had lived at the convalescent home for the past 10 years. Prior to that, she resided with a son in New Orleans.

Another son, Ivy Jordan of Monroe, is well known for his active part in local civic affairs. He is also a member of the Monroe-Ouachita Regional Planning Commission.

Mrs. Jordan was born and reared in Vernon parish and was the last charter member of the Cooper Baptist Church in Leesville.

Interment will be in the Cooper Cemetery in Leesville under direction of Peters Funeral Home. Burial will be private.

Surviving are four sons, Ivy Jordan, Monroe; J. Luther Jordan Sr., Mansfield; John S. Jordan, New Orleans; W. G. Jordan, Memphis, Tenn.; six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Two minutes and 45 seconds on the September drill.
Next month it was a minute and 30 seconds.
There are approximately 900 students in the three-story building who must file out and gather in orderly formations with their teacher at least 60 feet from the structure.
Smaller schools take much less time.
Our Lady of Fatima evacuates in less than 30 seconds. The last report showed 22 seconds.
At Neville the time runs about a minute and 30 seconds. Roughly speaking there are 800 students.

The Clark Elementary School on Breard Street has 1361 students, all of whom march out in a minute and 30 seconds.
Flacy, chief of the bureau, says the times are excellent. They have to be.
A fire can spread through a building in two minutes, or maybe faster.

FAST
The Orange Street school caught fire at night three years ago, and the inspectors firmly established that it wasn't more than two minutes before two-thirds of the building was engulfed in flames.
But efficient fire drills just do not happen.
Schools are required to run two fire drills a month and report to the Fire Prevention Bureau (FPB).
The inspectors make their surprise visits at least once a month, usually more.
The set up started, Flacy said, long before he joined the department in 1948.
It improved with time and practice.
The men of the FPB make their fire inspections monthly at every school. No one knows when they are coming.
They never find anything mai-or, but the little things are called to the attention of school superintendents and the school principal.

A later check is made to see if the recommendations have been followed.
No exit is allowed to be even partially blocked at any time.
All doors must open with gentle pressure.
Every teacher and child knows and can tell you exactly what he will do if the alarm sounds.
It's simple, fast, and effective.
The bells go off, the student body files out, and teacher follows and makes a count of the class after it forms away from the building.
Then if mother wants to find Johnny she can do so quickly.

NON-EXISTENT
Flacy says there is no such thing as a fire-proof building.
Fixtures, paints, curtains, and floor polish can feed a fire and produce an inferno.
But Flacy says that if a school has department checks can get a few seconds jump, the odds are almost all with the students.
School officials cooperate splendidly, Flacy says.
Most of the time, the FPB men will spring more than one surprise alarm a month.

Cutter recalled hearing a teacher say one time, "We've already had four alarms this month."
But the FPB hadn't been around and Cutter pulled the switch.
Surprise alarms are kept to a minimum, however, and the FPB doesn't interfere with general testing periods.
"We've got a good system, but neither can we become a nuisance. There's so much work to be done, we could hardly wear out our welcome anyway," Flacy said.

The state board of fire prevention has complimented the Monroe FPB for its efficiency.
The FPB thinks it has one of the best trained school systems in the country.

But the FPB comes in for most of its work in other areas.
Every public building, business establishment, alleyway, and likeable fire source must be reported on constantly.
If a service station puts down a fuel storage tank, the FPB man has to check it.
A new business locates in town and the FPB is called in to read the rules.

With the national, state, and city fire rules to watch over, the three men are going constantly to help someone with some legality about fires.
There are a 120 men in the Monroe Fire Department.
They can do a good job.
However, as Flacy said, "No matter how well we can fight a fire, we lose something. The best way is to prevent them."

In 1956 the work of firemen in Monroe dropped the fire insurance ratings. The city operates under a Type 3 rating now. It was Type 5 in 1956. Few cities have Type 1 ratings, the best under current rulings.

DUSSELDORF, Germany (UPI)—Arliss French, of Appleton, Wis., reached Mars by automobile. French, a grocery manager, and his wife flew to Duesseldorf from New York and drove to Mars on the Holland-West Germany border. The American couple won the trip by collecting 900 used shaving cream jars.

Democrat Group Favors Gravel To Retain Post

beth Stanton of Massachusetts.
Rawlins said the credentials group is drafting a report to be made to the National Committee Saturday. At that session most Southern members are expected to vote against retaining Gravel as a member of the committee but the Louisiana member seems likely to get sufficient support from other sections to retain his post.

Opposing factions in the Louisiana battle traded charges of political murder in arguments before the Credentials Committee. Warnings were voiced that another party capture may be in the making that could endanger Democratic victory chances in 1960.
Ralph Jackson, attorney for Gravel, told the Credentials Committee that the effort to oust Gravel was an "effort to kidnap and carry off one of your own members in mid-term."

"You are asked," he said, "to commit ceremonial murder, premeditated on the altar of segregation."
William Shaw, Talbot's lawyer, countered that it wasn't a matter of asking for a ceremonial murder of Gravel—"we're asking you to bury him. His execution has already taken place. Let's let his ashes remain in peace."

Shaw and Jones, representing that Louisiana State Democratic central committee, had asserted that Louisiana state law provides that the local party can remove any of its "officers" whenever it chooses. They contended that the national committee would have to accept Talbot, who was selected to replace Gravel by the state central committee Oct. 8.

The hearing produced heated exchanges between Talbot's defenders and the Gravel forces, which included New Orleans Attorney Jackson, Baton Rouge state Senator J. D. Delbrieux, former Congressman Henry D. Larcade and Victor Bussie, of Shreveport, president of Louisiana AFL-CIO.

Gravel, speaking vigorously in his own defense, said "The only crime with which I am charged is that I supported the Democratic platform, which was approved by every member of the Louisiana delegation to the 1956 convention."

He charged that the ouster move against him was "plotted" by State Senator W. H. Rainach, and repeated his offer to run against Rainach in the December 1959 primary to "find out what the feelings of the majority of Louisiana Democrats really are."

If Rainach won, Gravel said he would immediately resign.
Gravel said both Shaw and Jones have "actively opposed" the Democratic party presidential candidates in Louisiana in recent elections. Gravel admitted that he had declared segregation to be "morally wrong," but asked "Who is going to deny me the right to have my moral convictions?"

"I have never tried to impose my point of view on anyone. There would be serious trouble if we tried to integrate the schools of Louisiana now."

Delbrieux said the charges against Gravel were brought by extremists who "sent money to Little Rock, but who have yet to send money to bombed-out churches in the south."

He added: "Only within the framework of moderation can we work out the solution to the integration problem."

Bussie attacked Rainach's racial and labor stand and also declared that Jones has not contributed to the support of the Democratic party in Louisiana in recent years. Jackson argued the legal point that the state committee is powerless to remove a national committeeman before the term expires, but also stated that the attack on Gravel was a "ceremonial murder on the altar of segregation."

Jones had sharply protested that Gravel did not represent the feelings of the people of Louisiana and could not honestly represent their position.

"Our leaders have to carry out the wishes and sentiment of the people that elect them," he said. "Political leaders without the people are like a general without an army."

Jones asserted that for the first time in 30 years "both the Longs and the anti-Longs are united for a common objective"—ousting Gravel.

The Democratic committee's action, Jones said, "will determine what the south will do in 1960." Punishing the south, he asserted, would make it possible for Democratic party leaders in the south to keep the party together.

The defeat of Veteran Representative Brooks Hays in Little Rock resulted from the moderate stand he took, Jones asserted.

The former governor said that the south has undergone an "evolution that is nothing short of miraculous" in improving the status of Negroes within the system of segregation, and he pleaded for "an opportunity to work out our own problems."

Shaw noted that the national Democratic committee has authority to remove its own member, and said local groups should have the same right. This local independence, he insisted has been the basis of the Democratic philosophy since Thomas Jefferson founded the party. Talbot did not speak on his own behalf except to introduce his counsel. Meanwhile, Gravel released a letter written to him by C. Girard Davidson, former Louisianaian and now Democratic committeeman from Oregon.

Davidson said the nine committeemen from Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Montana and Idaho had approved his stand and intended to vote for his retention.

Woman Robs Bank, Flees In Taxicab

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A gum-chewing, blue-jeaned woman took $3,000 from a Liberty National Bank branch Friday in a robbery that lasted two minutes.

Clutching a paper sack filled with small bills, she calmly hailed a taxicab and disappeared in traffic.

Her method of operation, including the amount of loot, almost duplicated the robbery of a branch of the First National City Bank in New York Wednesday.

There a woman in her 60s handed the teller a note which read: "I have acid in a glass and if you don't give me what I want I'll splash it on you." She vanished among throngs of Christmas shoppers.

Her counterpart also used a note but backed up her demands with a pistol she shoved in the face of Miss Mary Frances Dunn.

"The woman didn't say a word," Miss Dunn said. "She just handed me the note demanding $3,000."

"I filled her sack with $1, $5, and $10 bills and handed it over." The bandit, partially disguised by a white bandanna over her dark hair, walked out a side door.

DEATHS

CLINT ILES
CLARKS (Special) — News has been received here that an accident claimed the life of Clint Iles, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Iles of DeRidder, following a traffic incident there on Wednesday.

The child was the grandson of Frank Iles, recently retired educator who had served as school principal in DeRidder for more than 30 years. He was also a great-nephew of Mayo M. Iles of Clark.

Information received here said that the youngster died 15 minutes after being struck by an automobile as he crossed a street from a school, directly in front of his DeRidder home.

Driver of the car was identified to relatives here as Mrs. Bernadene Heard of DeRidder. Last rites were conducted in DeRidder on Thursday afternoon.

STEVE MANLEY
COLUMBIA (Special) — Steve Manley, 73, of Columbia died in a Monroe hospital yesterday afternoon following a lengthy illness. Funeral services were incomplete, but the funeral will be under the direction of Riser and Son Funeral Home of Columbia. Services will be conducted from the funeral home chapel with the Rev. Jerry Greene officiating, assisted by the Rev. Kenneth Lukens.

Interment will follow in the Columbia Cemetery.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Isabelle Manley, Columbia; one daughter, Mrs. Jewel Ledbetter, Columbia; four sons, Wilbur, Lester and Lesley, all of Columbia, and Robert of Eureka, California; and one sister, Mrs. Norris Kirkland, Kelly; and 11 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

EDWARD A. STRONG
JONESBORO (Special) — Edward A. Strong, 80, died Friday in a local hospital following a long illness.

Funeral services will be held 2 p.m. Sunday at Southern Funeral Home Chapel in Jonesboro with the Rev. T. J. Crosby officiating. Burial will be in Corinth Cemetery near Hico, La.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anna Strong, Jonesboro; one daughter, Mrs. Dan Rowten, Odessa, Tex.; one sister, Mrs. Emma Templeton, Winnsboro; two brothers, Willie S. Strong, Greenwell Spring, La.; B. S. Strong, West Monroe; eight grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

MRS. J. B. GRIFFIN
Mrs. J. B. Griffin, 83, died Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Floyd Henderson in Monroe.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Saturday at Hixson Brothers Funeral Home with the Rev. H. L. Sampson officiating.

Interment will follow in the Pollock Cemetery.

Survivors include two sons, Justin Griffin of Houston, Tex.; and Johnny Griffin of Monroe; three daughters, Mrs. Isom Peters of Rayville, Mrs. Earl Phelps of Monroe and Mrs. Lloyd Henderson of Monroe; 18 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

Palbearers will be grandsons Justin Fogleman, John Fogleman, C. J. Peters, Delwyn Peters, Billy Peters, and Mike Griffin.

THOMAS NATHAN MCFARLAND
JONESVILLE (Special) — Thomas Nathan McFarland, 84, died at his home here yesterday.

Funeral services are slated for 2 p.m. Saturday at Wallace Ridge Baptist Church with the Rev. Huey Parpley, officiating.

Interment will follow in Heard Cemetery near Manifest under direction of Hixson Brothers Funeral Home of Jena.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Annie McFarland, Jonesville; two daughters, Mrs. R. L. Morris, Mrs. Joe Harrell, both of Jonesville; a brother, J. S. McFarland, Alexandria; and four grandchildren.

ly invited to attend the fine Christmas program at Neville High school at 9 p.m. December 15.

The show comprises ten scenes featuring different attitudes of Christmas. Twenty-seven numbers are rendered by the 40 member chorus to enhance dramatic skits. A highly enjoyable program will be presented for a most worthy cause.

Promise

"Darling", asked the bride, "will you still love me if I grow fat?"
"Heck no," was his response. "I promised for better or worse, but not through thick and thin."

Meeting

Virtually all Civilian Clubs in the state were represented at a certain popular steak house cafe Thursday night in Ruston for a meeting of the various groups from such places as Minden, Ruston, West Monroe, Monroe, Alexandria and New Orleans.

An excellent and unusual program was presented and talks were heard by special telephone arrangement with outstanding leaders in Civilian in other states. The new system, soon to be in vogue with all who have telephones, was put into use so that persons could call persons in their homes, far distant from Ruston.

Much new enthusiasm was awakened by the party. Those attending from Monroe were as follows: B. Frank Maxwell, the Rev. Fred Doolittle, Lester Clement, J. E. Peters, W. J. George, E. F. Nolan, Charles Lawrence, B. F. Bettis, B. A. Walker and "Jes' Ramblin'."

The pleas that come into Good Fellows' office make you understand the meaning of Christ when he said "it is more blessed to give than receive."

Here is a letter from a widow, pleading for help:
"I've been reading your articles in the newspaper and that is how I found out about you. I am a widow with 4 small children, ages 2, (girl), 6, (boy), 4, (girl), 3, (boy). I am on the Welfare and we draw $10 a month. But all we pay $40 a month rent and a utilities and keep two in school. We don't have any money extra to buy them things with."

DIFFICULT
"It's a wful hard to pay rent, utilities, keep two in school and feed five plus what clothing the children need on $10 a month. We're trying to get in the Mon-ro Housing Project and we hope to move soon so our rent will be cheaper."

"Any way you can help would be appreciated."
Here is another letter, brief but touching:
"I am asking for help for Christmas for my children. I have a husband but he doesn't have a job."

"We have 7 children. They are

11, 10, 8, 7, 4, 1 year and the baby is 4 months old. Please help us get something."
This little boy is asking for help. Will you answer his request with a donation to Good Fellows?
"I would like for you to send me and my brothers some Christmas. There are six of us, five boys and one girl. I am 12 years old and in the 8th grade."
"My father works but doesn't have enough money for our lunch every day at school. Mama doesn't work. She keeps the baby every day. We want something for Christmas."
"I am going to graduate in May from elementary school to high school. Please help us for Christmas. Christmas will be very sad if you don't come."

Christmas, which generally has a prefix of merry, will be sad for many if you don't help. Don't let these youngsters be without a toy, food, clothing and maybe a toy or two because you didn't send a dollar or more to Good Fellows, to buy them things with.

In 1956 the work of firemen in Monroe dropped the fire insurance rating. The city operates under a Type 3 rating now. It was Type 5 in 1956. Few cities have Type 1 ratings, the best under current rulings.

REACHED MARS BY AUTO

DUSSELDORF, Germany (UPI)—Artless French, of Appleton, Wis., reached Mars by automobile. French, a grocery manager, and his wife flew to Duesseldorf from New York and drove to Mars on the Holland-West Germany border. The American couple won the trip by collecting 900 used shaving cream jars.

Stanton of Massachusetts.

Rawlings said the credentials group is drafting a report to be made to the National Committee Saturday. At that session most Southern members are expected to vote against retaining Gravel as a member of the committee but the Louisiana member seems likely to get sufficient support from other sections to retain his post.

Opposing factions in the Louisiana battle traded charges of political murder in arguments before the Credentials Committee. Warnings were voiced that another party rupture may be in the making that could endanger Democratic victory chances in 1960.

Ralph Jackson, attorney for Gravel, told the Credentials Committee that the effort to oust Gravel was an "effort to kidnap and carry off one of your own members in mid-term."

"You are asked," he said, "to commit ceremonial murder, premeditated, on the altar of segregation."

William Shaw, Talbot's lawyer, countered that it wasn't a matter of asking for a ceremonial murder of Gravel—"we're asking you to bury him. His execution has already taken place. Let's let his ashes remain in peace."

Shaw and Jones, representing that Louisiana State Democratic central committee, had asserted that Louisiana state law provides that the local party can remove any of its "officers" whenever it chooses. They contended that the national committee would have to accept Talbot, who was selected to replace Gravel by the state central committee Oct. 8.

The hearing produced heated exchanges between Talbot's defenders and the Gravel forces, which included New Orleans Attorney Jackson, Baton Rouge state Senator J. D. Deblieux, former Congressman Henry D. Larcade and Victor Bussie, of Shreveport, president of Louisiana AFL-CIO.

Gravel, speaking vigorously in his own defense, said "The only crime with which I am charged is that I supported the Democratic platform, which was approved by every member of the Louisiana delegation to the 1956 convention."

He charged that the ouster move against him was "plotted" by State Senator W. H. Rainach, and repeated his offer to run against Rainach in the December 1959 primary to "find out what the feelings of the majority of Louisiana Democrats really are."

If Rainach won, Gravel said he would immediately resign.

Gravel said both Shaw and Jones have "actively opposed" the Democratic party presidential candidates in Louisiana in recent elections. Gravel admitted that he had declared segregation to be "morally wrong," but asked "Who is going to deny me the right to have my moral convictions?"

"I have never tried to impose my point of view on anyone. There would be serious trouble if we tried to integrate the schools of Louisiana now."

Deblieux said the charges against Gravel were brought by extremists who "sent money to Little Rock, but who have yet to send money to bombed-out churches in the south."

He added: "Only within the framework of moderation can we work out the solution to the integration problem."

Bussie attacked Rainach's racial and labor stand and also declared that Jones has not contributed to the support of the Democratic party in Louisiana in recent years. Jackson argued the legal point that the state committee is powerless to remove a national committeeman before the term expires, but also stated that the attack on Gravel was a "ceremonial murder on the altar of segregation."

Jones had sharply protested that Gravel did not represent the feelings of the people of Louisiana and could not honestly represent their position.

"Our leaders have to carry out the wishes and sentiment of the people that elect them," he said. "Political leaders without the people are like a general without an army."

Jones asserted that for the first time in 30 years "both the Longs and the anti-Longs are united for a common objective"—ousting Gravel.

The Democratic committee's action, Jones said, "will determine what the south will do in 1960." Punishing the south, he asserted, would make it possible for Democratic party leaders in the south to keep the party together.

The defeat of Veteran Representative Brooks Hays in Little Rock resulted from the moderate stand he took, Jones asserted.

The former governor said that the south has undergone an "evolution that is nothing short of miraculous" in improving the status of Negroes within the system of segregation, and he pleaded for "an opportunity to work out our own problems."

Shaw noted that the national Democratic committee has authority to remove its own member, and said local groups should have the same right. This local independence, he insisted has been the basis of the Democratic philosophy since Thomas Jefferson founded the party. Talbot did not speak on his own behalf except to introduce his counsel. Meanwhile, Gravel released a letter written to him by C. Girard Davidson, former Louisianian and now Democratic committeeman from Oregon.

Davidson said the nine committeemen from Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Montana and Idaho had approved his stand and intended to vote for his retention.

Woman Robs Bank, Flees In Taxicab

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A gum-chewing, blue-jeaned woman took $3,000 from a Liberty National Bank branch Friday in a robbery that lasted two minutes.

Clutching a paper sack filled with small bills, she calmly hailed a taxicab and disappeared in traffic.

Her method of operation, including the amount of loot, almost duplicated the robbery of a branch of the First National City Bank in New York Wednesday.

There a woman in her 60s handed the teller a note which read:

"I have acid in a glass and if you don't give me what I want I'll splash it on you." She vanished among throngs of Christmas shoppers.

Her counterpart also used a note but backed up her demands with a pistol she shoved in the face of Miss Mary Frances Dunn.

"The woman didn't say a word," Miss Dunn said. "She just handed me the note demanding $3,000."

"I filled her sack with $1, $5, and $10 bills and handed it over."

The bandit, partially disguised by a white bandanna over her dark hair, walked out a side door.

CLINT ILES

CLARKS (Special)—News has been received here that an accident claimed the life of Clint Iles, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Iles of DeRidder, following a traffic incident there on Wednesday.

The child was the grandson of Frank Iles, recently retired educator who had served as school principal in DeRidder for more than 30 years. He was also a great-nephew of Mayo M. Iles of Clark.

Information received here said that the youngster died 15 minutes after being struck by an automobile as he crossed a street from a school, directly in front of his DeRidder home.

Driver of the car was identified to relatives here as Mrs. Bernadeen Heard of DeRidder.

Last rites were conducted in DeRidder on Thursday afternoon.

STEVE MANLEY

Funeral services were incomplete, but the funeral will be under the direction of Riser and Son Funeral Home of Columbia. Services will be conducted from the funeral home chapel with the Rev. Jerry Greene officiating, assisted by the Rev. Kenneth Lukens.

Interment will follow in the Columbia Cemetery.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Isabelle Manley, Columbia; one daughter, Mrs. Jewel Ledbetter, Columbia; four sons, Wilbur, Lester and Lesley, all of Columbia, and Robert of Eureka, California; and one sister, Mrs. Norris Kirkland, Kelly; and 11 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

EDWARD A. STRONG

JONESBORO (Special)—Edward A. Strong, 80, died Friday in a local hospital following a long illness.

Funeral services will be held 2 p.m. Sunday at Southern Funeral Home Chapel in Jonesboro with the Rev. T. J. Crosby officiating. Burial will be in Corinth Cemetery near Hico, La.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anna Strong, Jonesboro; one daughter, Mrs. Dan Rowten, Odessa, Tex.; one sister, Mrs. Emma Templeton, Winsboro; two brothers, Willie S. Strong, Greenwell Spring, La.; B. S. Strong, West Monroe; eight grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

MRS. J. B. GRIFFIN

Mrs. J. B. Griffin, 83, died Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Floyd Henderson in Monroe.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Saturday at Hixson Brothers Funeral Home with the Rev. H. L. Sampson officiating.

Interment will follow in the Pollock Cemetery.

Survivors include two sons, Justin Griffin of Houston, Tex.; and Johnny Griffin of Monroe; three daughters, Mrs. Isom Peters of Rayville, Mrs. Earl Phelps of Monroe and Mrs. Lloyd Henderson of Monroe; 18 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will be grandsons Justin Fogleman, John Fogleman, C. J. Peters, Delwyn Peters, Billy Peters, and Mike Griffin.

JONESVILLE (Special)—Thomas Nathan McFarland, 84, died at his home here yesterday.

Funeral services are slated for 2 p.m. Saturday at Wallace Ridge Baptist Church with the Rev. Huey Parpley officiating.

Interment will follow in Heard Cemetery near Manifest under direction of Hixson Brothers Funeral Home of Jena.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Annie McFarland, Jonesville; two daughters, Mrs. R. L. Morris, Mrs. Joe Harrell, both of Jonesville; a brother, J. S. McFarland, Alexandria; and four grandchildren.

The body will lie in state at the residence of Eliza McFarland of Rt. 1, Jonesville.

ly invited to attend the fine Christmas program at Neville High school at 9 p.m. December 15.

The show comprises ten scenes featuring different attitudes of Christmas. Twenty-seven numbers are rendered by the 40 member chorus to enhance dramatic skits. A highly enjoyable program will be presented for a most worthy cause.

Promise

"Darling," asked the bride, "will you still love me if I grow fat?"

"Heck no," was his response. "I promised for better or worse, but not through thick and thin."

Meeting

Virtually all Civitan Clubs in the state were represented at a certain popular steak house cafe Thursday night in Ruston for a meeting of the various groups from such places as Minden, Ruston, West Monroe, Monroe, Alexandria and New Orleans.

An excellent and unusual program was presented and talks were heard by special telephone arrangement with outstanding leaders in Civitan in other states. The new system, soon to be in vogue with all who have telephones, was put into use so that persons could call persons in their homes, far distant from Ruston.

Much new enthusiasm was awakened by the party.

Those attending from Monroe were as follows: B. Frank Maxwell, the Rev. Fred Doolittle, Lester Clement, J. E. Peters, W. J. George, E. F. Nolan, Charles Lawrence, B. F. Bettis, B. A. Walker and "Jes' Ramblin'."

help to put a smile on the face of a little child who doesn't understand why Santa Claus can't visit her also.

The pleas that come into Good Fellows' office make you understand the meaning of Christmas when he said "it is more blessed to give than receive."

Here is a letter from a widow, pleading for help:

"I've been reading your articles in the newspaper and that is how I found out about you. I am a widow with 4 small children, ages 2, (girl), 6, (boy), 4, (girl), 3, (boy). I am on the Welfare and we draw $110 a month. But after we pay $40 a month rent and utilities and keep two in school, we don't have any money extra to buy them things with."

"It's a awful hard to pay rent, utilities, keep two in school and feed five plus what clothing the children need on $110 a month. We're trying to get in the Monroe Housing Project and we hope to move soon so our rent will be cheaper."

"Any way you can help would be appreciated."

Here is another letter, brief but touching.

"I am asking for help for Christmas for my children. I have a husband but he doesn't have a job."

"We have 7 children. They are

11, 10, 8, 7, 4, 1 year and the baby is 4 months old. Please help us get something."

This little boy is asking for help. Will you answer his request with a donation to Good Fellows?

"I would like for you to send me and my brothers some Christmas. There are six of us, five boys and one girl. I am 12 years old and in the 8th grade."

"My father works but doesn't have enough money for our lunch every day at school. Mama doesn't work. She keeps the baby every day. We want something for Christmas."

"I am going to graduate in May from elementary school to high school. Please help us for Christmas. Christmas will be very sad if you don't come."

Christmas, which generally has a prefix of merry, will be sad for many if you don't help. Don't let these youngsters be without food, clothing and maybe a toy or two because you didn't send a dollar or more to Good Fellows.

Marc Connelly, the Pulitzer Prize winning playwright of "The Green Pastures," will be sad an actor. He plays a role in the new comedy, "Tall Story," headed for Broadway. A Pulitzer Prize playwright, Connelly has acted a few times before — completely in the ham school.

Ex-Con Chooses Death To Prison

PRINEVILLE, Ore. (AP) — An ex-convict, who shouted to police Stanley Robinson, 27, shot and that he never would go back to killed himself Friday at the home prison, chose death rather than of his estranged wife, where he briefly had held his family and a policeman as captives.

Police said they thought Robinson was about to surrender when there was one shot—the only one fired in the night's siege — and Robinson died.

Robinson had permitted a prison psychologist, Wade Scott, to enter the house. Scott told police as he walked out that "It's all over." Policemen were closing in as Robinson killed himself.

The siege began when State Policeman Vern Boyer called at the Robinson home here Thursday evening to serve a warrant on a bad check charge. Robinson had been released from Oregon State Prison on Oct. 31 after serving a year on a similar charge.

As Boyer entered the house, Robinson stepped out from behind a door, armed with a loaded and cocked rifle.

Boyer, Robinson's wife and four Robinson children, ranging in age from 5 to 11, were held captive for 30 minutes. Another policeman convinced Robinson he should release the family and Boyer.

Robinson's wife had filed for divorces while he was in prison. He and children and their welfare."

Robinson was a Marine veteran of the Korean War. His wife told prison officials that he enlisted in 1948 at Wichita, Kan., and had 14 months combat duty in Korea as a line sergeant. She said he had won the Navy Cross, Silver Star, Bronze Star and two Purple Hearts.

Elias Howe, a Massachusetts machine operator, spent five years in his off - time to invent yesterday. The officers will serve that during his talk Robinson's "major concern was for his wife and children and their welfare."

Phone Rate Case

A new chapter in Louisiana's long-delayed telephone rate case is expected to be written when Judge G. Caldwell Herget renders a decision in the case which was tried before him recently in district court in Baton Rouge. It is to be hoped that the ruling will enable the telephone company to provide the people of Louisiana with the type of service it wishes to give.

Almost from the beginning, the rate fight has had all of the appearances of being largely a spite fight or a political matter. While acknowledging that the Southern Bell Telephone Company in Louisiana is entitled to an increase in its rates, the Louisiana public service commission has refused to grant any increases.

The telephone company has repeatedly pointed out that it has been unable to obtain capital for the greatly-needed construction because of its low rate of earnings in this state. It argues that other corporations have been allowed to receive earnings amounting to six per cent while Southern Bell has been allowed only 4.07 under the commission's order.

On Oct. 10, 1958, the commission issued an order denying in full Southern Bell's request for increased rates, although the commission stated the phone company would be entitled to an increase of $1,981,707 annually.

Commenting on what it believes to be an unfair situation, the phone company said:

"In the post-war years $319,110,241 has been spent for service improvement and expansion in Louisiana. This sum was committed on faith that reasonable earnings would be allowed. They have not been allowed. Despite this, Southern Bell has been expanding to the very limit of its resources—the limit being the low earning rate put into effect by the commission.

The phone rate case began when Southern Bell filed an application on August 14, 1957, requesting emergency rate increases amounting to $7 million annually. Shortly afterward this was supplemented by a request that the commission authorize increases which would amount, in total, to about $14 million, the full earnings said by the company to be needed to provide the expanded service Louisiana people need and want.

In the recent hearing before Judge Herget in Baton Rouge telephone company counsel argued that earnings of less than six per cent would amount to confiscation of the company's property in Louisiana.

There can be little doubt that the punitive action taken by the public service commission in refusing to grant justifiable increases the phone company is entitled to is contrary to the public interest in Louisiana. Judgment should be made on the basis of facts, not on ill will and punishment.

The district court in Baton Rouge now has the task of deciding whether the company's request is justified, and certainly it is. The facts have been laid before it and briefs by attorneys for both sides are about to be submitted, so that Judge Herget can have down in black and white the contentions of both sides.

In reaching his decision, there will be no reason for the judge to bear any of the malice apparently harbored by some members of the public service commission.

The public service commission has dragged out the case too long and probably has done considerable harm to the state's economy by delaying telephone expansion. If the case can be brought to a satisfactory close it will be to the best interests of the people.

A Day To Remember

On the broad deck of the USS Nevada in Pearl Harbor's Battleship Row, the band and the Marine guard assembled for morning colors. It was December 7, 1941. As the first bars of "The Star Spangled Banner" burst forth the enemy struck.

The assault, unprovoked and without warning, lasted for about two hours. It crippled our Pacific fleet, left hundreds dead or dying, plunged the United States into history's greatest war.

Sunday is the seventeenth anniversary of that attack. By designation of President Eisenhower, it also is Civil Defense Day.

It is appropriate that a day of prayer and reflection be chosen for the twin observance. For Pearl Harbor should be a stark reminder to every American of the tremendous price a nation has to pay for unpreparedness.

That dark day found this great, powerful nation as unprepared as was the Nevada's band. A seaman on a destroyer caught in the attack said: "I didn't even know they were sore at us."

To recoup the losses we suffered that day, we paid a terrible price in lives and resources. We must not let it happen again.

That does not mean that we must go about with chips on our shoulders. We do not anticipate war, but we must be prepared. World War II was fought by armies and fleets and planes in combat zones far removed from these shores. World War III, if it comes, will not be so remote.

Supersonic bombers and push-button missiles would make every major city in the United States a potential target. Radioactive fallout from the explosion of hydrogen bombs could reach the farthest points of the nation. In tomorrow's war every American home would be on the front line.

This is what we are up against. This is why we must prepare now. Your local government—like your Federal Government and your State Government—must prepare now so that if an attack comes it can use all of its resources to carry out what ever actions are required for survival and recovery.

And you must prepare. You must take steps now to be sure that you and your family could survive if an attack came, for at least two weeks without help from your neighbors or local authority.

You cannot wait until the hour of attack to make these preparations. You must prepare now. Your local Civil Defense can tell you the simple steps to take that could mean the difference between life or death in the event of an attack. But act now—today. We cannot afford another Pearl Harbor.

Throwing Brickbats Is One Purpose Of Press

BRICKBATS AND BOUQUETS sued was not based on facts but on misinformation which was imparted. The following letter came to me on the stationery of the Treasury Department, Bureau of Customs: Dear Mr. Sokolsky: "It is easier to throw a brickbat at a government employee than a bouquet (sic); it is easier to condemn than to praise. Constructive criticism is always welcome when there is reason for criticism. "Low license numbers are not indicative of any privileges. I must explain that Khouri's letter refers to a statement made by a citizen of probity concerning treatment meted out to him while his father was dying aboard ship and his mother was alone with the dying man. All he wanted was to meet the ship as a passenger on a revenue cutter, or whatever they call it these days, a courtly shown politicians, movie stars and such trivia. In fact, since the original article appeared, I have received more than one telephone call telling me that if I ever wanted such a courtesy, I would know where to get it.

CHARLES O. GRIDLEY

2 Convention Dates Highly Important

This week end the jockeying will begin over dates for the 1960 political conventions and which party shall be first to nominate its candidate for president. The Democratic national committee, at a special meeting here called by Chairman Paul Butler, will consider numerous questions, but the matter of the convention date will be among the important ones. The Democrats in 1956 for the first time in years held their convention in advance of the Republicans. Prior to that the Republicans had met in June, the Democrats in July, but some leaders in each party decided that made the campaign too long, that much impetus was lost between the nomination and the beginning of the election drive and that on some occasions it was difficult to regain.

Also the two parties met in different cities in 1956 for the first time since 1940. The San Francisco convention of the Republicans succeeded that of the Democrats in Chicago immediately, and newspapers and broadcasting companies spent millions of dollars in transporting their equipment by plane over the intervening week - end from the middle west to the Pacific coast. To avoid a repetition of such an unnecessary outlay, both conventions are almost certain to be held in the same city in 1960. If Chicago has finished its new convention hall on the lake front by that time, it will be the favorite. The present difficulty is that the building has not yet been started, and the national committees like to pick the convention location well in advance.

But the dates still loom as a principal consideration, for this time the nominee of the party which holds its convention last may depend on the choice of the party which convenes first. To illustrate, if the Democrats were to meet first and either split or nominate a candidate to whom a dissident element of considerable strength was opposed, the Republicans would feel more confident in naming Vice President Richard M. Nixon as their presidential candidate, figuring that the full Democratic vote would not be cast, or that Nixon might even pick up some Democratic votes.

And if the Republicans, going back to their traditional custom of meeting first, should choose Nixon, Democratic leaders seeking harmony would have the argument that a united party, reaching agreement on its controversial issues, would be in an excellent position to defeat Nixon with any Democratic candidate on whom all Democrats could agree.

The prospect this week is that the Democratic national committee will choose a committee instructed to recommend a time and place for holding the convention and to report back to the full committee. Advance reports indicate that many of the 108 members of the committee scheduled to meet this week end will favor a return to late June or early July for the opening date.

That sentiment in sufficient volume would probably control the action of the committee. The Republicans would thus have the alternative of sticking to early August or setting a date fairly early in June, to which many western delegates have objected in the past because they like to combine political business with the vacation season. This group found the San Francisco date just right.

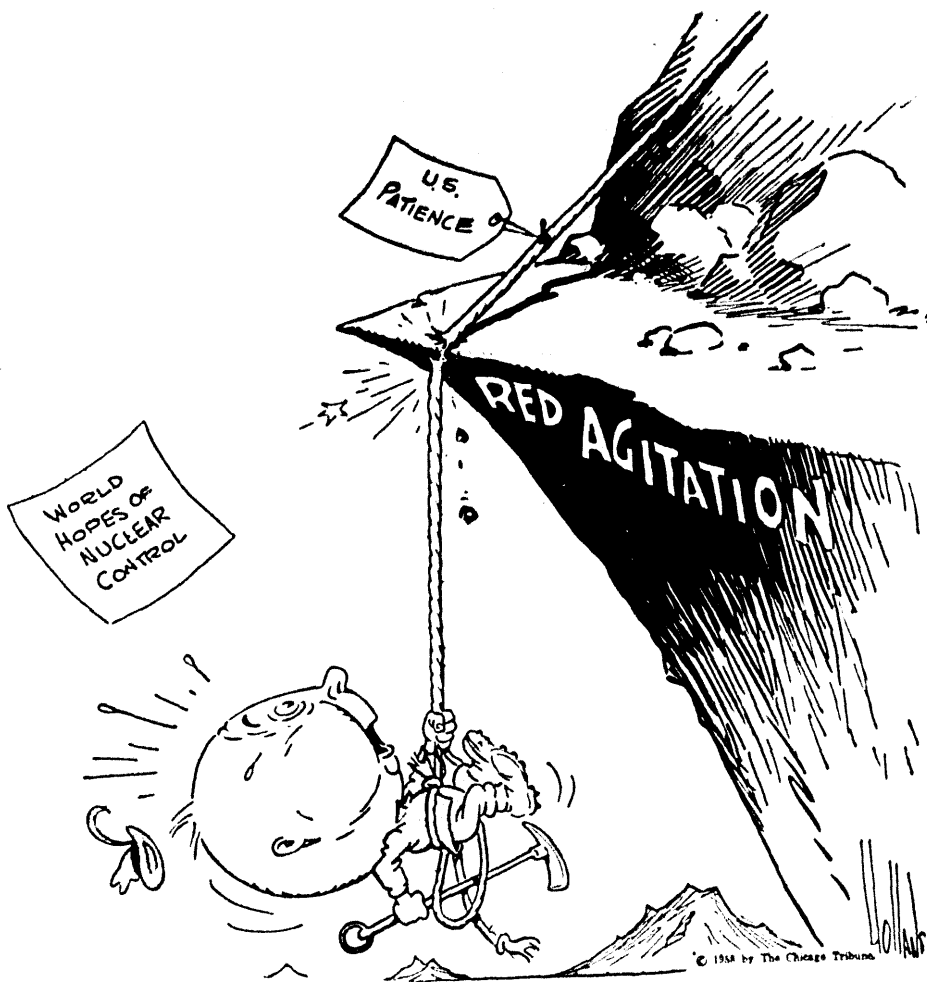

Another factor influencing the convention dates is that some states, particularly in the south, hold their primaries for congressional candidates in August or September and early national conventions enable those attending to get back to their states to engage in those campaigns. That, of course applies with greater force to Democrats than Republicans.

No one can expect 108 Democrats from all sections of the country to assemble under one roof without friction, particularly in view of the predicted clashes between northern and southern wings of the party in prospect in the new congress. But there will be no revolt against Chairman Butler, there will be an air of reasonableness in most of the discussions and both wings are likely to come away with a better understanding of the other.

These are the predictions at this point. The Democrats have just won a smashing victory and there is no place in its councils, at the moment, for hotheads.

Many Worried By Hacking Coughs

Frequent coughing is a common sign of chronic bronchitis. The condition usually is secondary to long standing infection, irritation, or other pulmonary disease. Periodic X-rays are in order, to keep tabs on what is taking place within the chest cavity.

In many instances, cough is mild and the victim attributes it to tobacco. The inveterate smoker begins to cough in the morning, especially after moving about or taking a deep breath. Hacking continues until the bronchi are cleared of mucus. Bouts of coughing may continue throughout the day and are precipitated by laughing, exertion, or deep breathing. Some cough so hard the face flushes and they become dizzy or faint.

Tobacco smoke is not the only bronchial irritant. Dust containing silica and iron causes extensive pulmonary damage. The same can be said of fumes and volatile chemicals found in many industries and in smog.

Chest diseases such as bronchiectasis, emphysema, pulmonary fibrosis, tuberculosis, and lung cancer are accompanied by chronic cough. Shortness of breath, bringing up considerable purulent sputum, or bleeding from inflamed tissues may be additional symptoms.

Chronic sinusitis is another origin of chronic bronchitis. Investigation of the nose and throat and X-rays of the sinuses are suggested in the presence of cough.

The easiest way to control chronic cough is to eliminate the cause. This is not so difficult during the early stages but becomes more so as the lung tissues become scarred and damaged beyond repair. Cough remedies help suppress cough and several good drugs are available to relax and relieve congestion in the bronchi. It is not advisable, however, to stop a cough that is ridding the lungs of infected sputum, as in bacterial bronchitis.

Many bronchitis sufferers do better in a dry climate, provided dust is not responsible. Fewer colds and other respiratory infections, the nemesis of chronic bronchitis victims, occur to aggravate existing symptoms.

PALE LIDS AND LOBES
R. T. writes: Can a doctor tell if a person is anemic by pulling his lower eyelids and ear lobes down?

REPLY
Yes, but it is more scientific to stick a small styllet into the ear lobe and extract a drop of blood for an accurate count. Your suggestion is of value only when marked anemia exists. By this time it is not necessary for the physician to pull down the eyelids or ear lobes as he can tell by looking at the patient's pale face that he is anemic.

BLOATING AFTER EATING

Old Watches Put On Sale As New

(The writer wishes it clearly understood that this and every article in this series applies to that small segment of children that worm their way into every industry. After thirty-five years of contact with the seamy side of business, the writer's own opinion is that close to 99 per cent of businessmen are honest and 1 per cent would come within the scope of these articles. Yet a conservative estimate of the unethical, and more often illegal, rousting of this 1 per cent would be $500,000,000 a year.)

QUESTION — Recently, while on my vacation, I observed a retail store window full of watches at 60 per cent off the list price. On closer examination I observed that all the watches were manufactured by well known watch companies. Feeling that I had indeed stumbled into a rare bargain, I purchased one for my self and one for my son. Both watches looked brand new and were in the original box of the manufacturer.

After two weeks my watch stopped. Having reached home by this time, I took it to my local jeweler, who stated it was a second-hand watch and not worth repairing. At his suggestion I brought my son's watch in the next day and, much to my amazement, my jeweler informed me that this watch was also second-hand not worth repairing. Could this be true, and if so what can I do?

ANSWER — Assuming you are an honest man, my answer is yes, it could be true, and no doubt is true.

As to what you can do, that depends on how far your home town is from the city where you purchased the watches. If it is not too far, go back there and tell your story to the local prosecutor. Take with you the watches, whatever sales invoices you received, and a statement from your jeweler. If this is not possible, contact your local Better Business Bureau or the Better Business Bureau in the city where you made the purchases.

The writer, in conjunction with the District Attorney's Office of New York County, the New York City Better Business Bureau, most of the major watch manufacturers, recently uncovered a widespread conspiracy that has been blanketing the entire country with this type of watch.

A number of watch rebuilders were purchasing old worn-out movements of all the well-known brand manufacturers. Investigation disclosed that some of the movements were 40 to 50 years old. The old, worn parts were taken out and the watch rebuilt with cheap, inferior parts. Very lit-

An attractive, but very inexpensive case and bracelet were then added. Boxes of the original manufacturer were obtained or sometimes duplicated. These watches found their way into the hands of certain types of retailers all over the country, sometimes to be sold as rebuilt watches, more often as new ones.

Of course, no established and competent, let alone ethical, dealer would touch this sort of merchandise, since he failed to recognize the tricks employed he would know so little about watches that he should not be in the business.

The imprinting of the name of the manufacturer on the dial, or duplicated boxes, is a violation of the trademark laws. The name, label, emblem, etc., is the trademark of the particular company and is registered as such. No one except the owner of a trademark or persons authorized by the owner has the right to use that name or mark, especially on a product similar to that manufactured by the owner.

All persons directly or indirectly connected with the sale, offering for sale or distribution of these watches with counterfeited trademarks are, in the eyes of the law, equally guilty. The law holds that a merchant has a responsibility to the consumer to know what he is selling. In this particular case, knowledge was readily obtainable to every merchant. All of these watches would normally have cost anywhere from $20 to $40 wholesale, whereas these could be purchased from $7 to $12.

My closing advice to you is to purchase merchandise in a reputable store. The desire to get something for nothing usually ends up in your getting—nothing.

What Can I Say?

HOW CAN I tell my love for you?
... What words are there to lovers every day?
... How can I make you understand... And really feel, my dear... My promise of devotion is... Forever and sincere?
... I wish the moon were mine to give... And I could do the feat... Of gathering all stars there are... To offer you, my sweet... But mine is not a silver tongue... I have no words of gold... The only thing that I can do... Is be a little bold... And simply say I love you and... I give my heart to you... And hope that you will promise, dear... To be forever true.

Phone Rate Case

A new chapter in Louisiana's long-delayed telephone rate case is expected to be written when Judge G. Caldwell Herget renders a decision in the case which was tried before him recently in district court in Baton Rouge. It is to be hoped that the ruling will enable the telephone company to provide the people of Louisiana with the type of service it wishes to give.

Almost from the beginning, the rate fight has had all of the appearances of being largely a spite fight or a political matter. While acknowledging that the Southern Bell Telephone Company in Louisiana is entitled to an increase in its rates, the Louisiana public service commission has refused to grant any increases.

The telephone company has repeatedly pointed out that it has been unable to obtain capital for the greatly-needed construction because of its low rate of earnings in this state. It argues that other corporations have been allowed to receive earnings amounting to six per cent while Southern Bell has been allowed only 4.07 under the commission's order.

On Oct. 10, 1958, the commission issued an order denying in full Southern Bell's request for increased rates, although the commission stated the phone company would be entitled to an increase of $1,981,707 annually.

Commenting on what it believes to be an unfair situation, the phone company said:

"In the post-war years $319,110,241 has been spent for service improvement and expansion in Louisiana. This sum was committed on faith that reasonable earnings would be allowed. They have not been allowed. Despite this, Southern Bell has been expanding to the very limit of its resources—the limit being the low earning rate put into effect by the commission.

The phone rate case began when Southern Bell filed an application on August 14, 1957, requesting emergency rate increases amounting to $7 million annually. Shortly afterward this was supplemented by a request that the commission authorize increases which would amount, in total, to about $14 million, the full earnings said by the company to be needed to provide the expanded service Louisiana people need and want.

In the recent hearing before Judge Herget in Baton Rouge telephone company counsel argued that earnings of less than six per cent would amount to confiscation of the company's property in Louisiana.

There can be little doubt that the punitive action taken by the public service commission in refusing to grant justifiable increases the phone company is entitled to is contrary to the public interest in Louisiana. Judgment should be made on the basis of facts, not on ill will and punishment.

The district court in Baton Rouge now has the task of deciding whether the company's request is justified, and certainly it is. The facts have been laid before it and briefs by attorneys for both sides are about to be submitted, so that Judge Herget can have down in black and white the contentions of both sides.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Throwing Brickbats Is One Purpose Of Press

BRICKBATS AND BOUQUETS The following letter came to me on the stationery of the Treasury Department, Bureau of Customs: Dear Mr. Sokolsky: "It is easier to throw a brickbat at a government employee than a bouquet (sic); it is easier to condemn than to praise. Constructive criticism is always welcome when there is reason for criticism. "Low license numbers are not indicative of any privileges. Certain individuals in your own organization enjoy the lowest numbers issued by the Bureau. "It is to be regretted that your article 'These Days' recently issued was not based on facts but on misinformation which was imparted. Very truly yours, ELIE N. KHOURI U.S. Appraiser of Merchandise" I must explain that Khouri's letter refers to a statement made by a citizen of probity concerning treatment meted out to him while his father was dying aboard ship and his mother was alone with the dying man. All he wanted was to meet the ship as a passenger on a revenue cutter, or whatever they call it these days, a courtesy shown politicians, movie stars and such trivia. In fact, since the original article appeared, I have received more than one telephone call telling me that if I ever wanted such a courtesy, I would know where to get it.

Now, as to throwing a brickbat at a government employee, I hope my right arm remains sufficiently strong to do it whenever it is possible. That is one reason for the existence of a free press. It is to prevent petty government officials from becoming masters of the people, little satraps who lick the boots of those above them but treat the taxpayer, their true employers, with contempt. If the press does not exist for that, it has no real leadership in the community.

The phrase "Constructive criticism is always welcome when there is reason for criticism," is utter and complete nonsense. Let us parse that sentence! First is the cliché, "constructive criticism," which in reality means nothing because criticism is criticism and its object is more to disclose faults and flaws than to propose reforms. A music critic need not be a Beethoven and, in fact, none ever was.

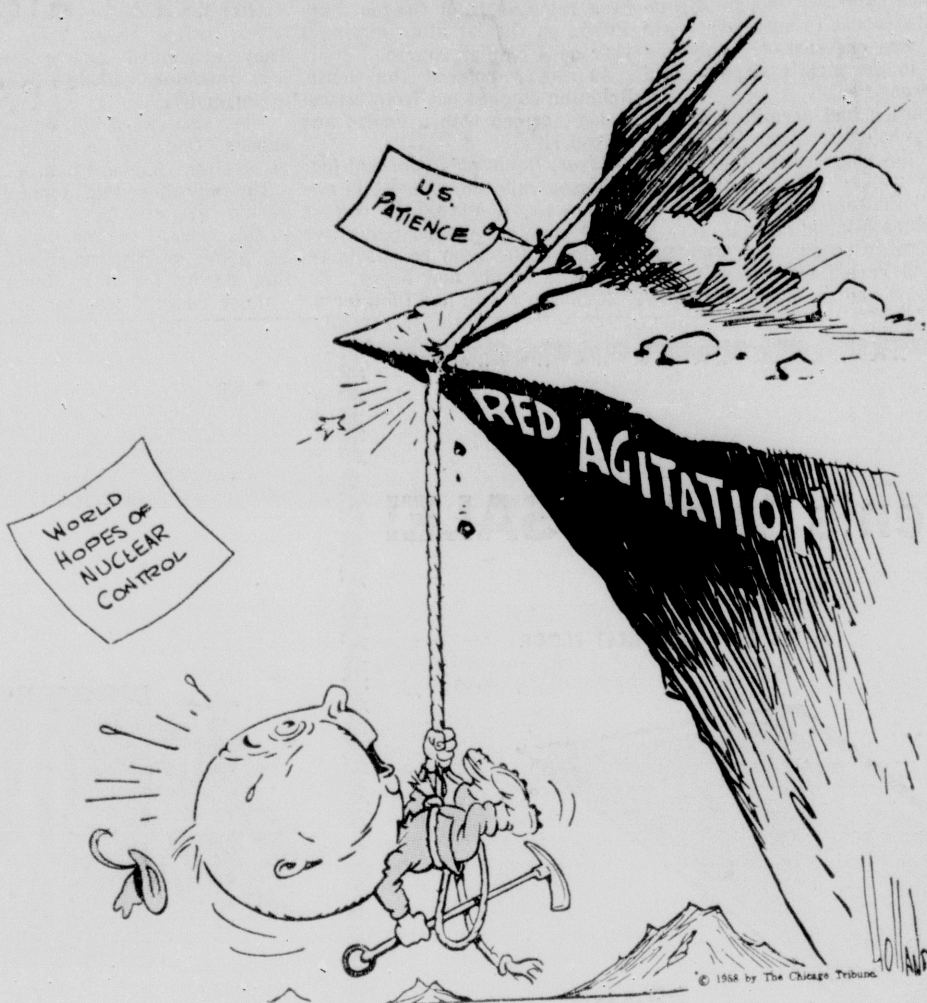

The politician who says that criticism is "always welcome," under any circumstances, says what is not so, because criticism, publicly stated is poison to a politician, particularly if he holds elective office. He wants praise. He wants a boost. He wants the fact ignored, for instance, that he has wrecked the treasury of the state, as Soapy Williams has done in Michigan. No official welcomes criticism, if he holds an appointive position because he knows that when he becomes an embarrassment to those over him, they will find a way to get rid of him.

There is a reference to "low license numbers." This is a matter of some small and special privileges for the elite, such as low license numbers on automobiles and fake deputyships which give a merchant or a lawyer or somebody like that the privilege of giving the impression that he is an official and therefore may park alongside a fire hydrant. Khouri says that some people "in your own organization" enjoy such privileges. I do not know which organization he refers to. I belong to several. If he means some newspaper, it depends upon which one in which city. I do not ask for special license plates and have none, preferring to take what comes. A friend of mine had one with the first letter of his family name; I never thought that made him more or less of a human being. He was always the same and when he died, I shed a tear. He could not take that unusual license plate to Heaven.

Besides why would an official of the Treasury Department of the federal government write to me about license plates which is a municipal business? Certainly, the police do not object to criticism of those who demand special privileges. For the police, they are distinctly and positively a pain in the neck.

This comment is published as a public service. The letter I received bears the tone of a German beamte or of the ancient Russian nachalniki. That sort of thing is bad news in a republic and we need none of it.

An attractive, but very inexpensive case and bracelet were then added. Boxes of the original manufacturer were obtained or sometimes duplicated. These watches found their way into the hands of certain types of retailers all over the country, sometimes to be sold as rebuilt watches, more often as new ones.

Of course, no established and competent, let alone ethical, dealer would touch this sort of merchandise, since if he failed to recognize the tricks employed he would know so little about watches that he should not be in the business.

The imprinting of the name of the manufacturer on the dial, or duplicated boxes, is a violation of the trademark laws. The name, label, emblem, etc., is the trademark of the particular company and is registered as such. No one except the owner of a trademark or persons authorized by the owner has the right to use that name or mark, especially on a product similar to that manufactured by the owner.

All persons directly or indirectly connected with the sale, offering for sale or distribution of these watches with counterfeit trademarks are, in the eyes of the law, equally guilty. The law holds that a merchant has a responsibility to the consumer to know what he is selling. In this particular case, knowledge was readily obtainable to every merchant. A few of these watches would normally have a cost anywhere from $20 to $40 wholesale, where these could be purchased from $7 to $12.

My closing advice to you is to purchase merchandise in a reputable store. The desire to get something for nothing usually ends up in your getting—nothing.

WEATHER SPEEDS HARVEST

ALEXANDRIA (UPI) — The Louisiana Crop Reporting Service reported Thursday sugar cane harvesting is two-thirds complete because of excellent harvesting the past week. The report said good progress was made in harvesting other crops and that the sugar cane crop was reported above average throughout the state, and harvest of pecan and tung nut crops was nearing completion.

Daily Devotion

Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone.— James 2:17.

It takes more than one element to get a dynamic reaction in nature. We may nozzle the highest octane gasoline into our automobile engine, but if no air is mixed with it, no power will be obtained. But when air and gasoline are properly mixed, we have power that is really amazing. The spiritual world is much like the physical and our noblest example of man comes from a combination of faith and civic and religious activity. A Christian need not be sanctimonious. He should be like Christ, Who went about doing good.

Heavenly Father, help us to be true disciples of Thy Son, showing our faith by lives of usefulness and service. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

TO RETURN BASE

SOUTH RUISLIP, England (UPI)—The U. S. Air Force will close its operations at Burtonwood Air Base and turn the station back to the British Air Ministry late in 1959. Air Force officials announced Friday.

PORTRAITS

By James J. Metcalfe

What CAN I Say?

How CAN I tell my love for you?
... What words are there to say?
... Beyond the ordinary ones... Of lovers every day?
... How can I make you understand... And really feel my dear... My promise of devotion is... Forever and sincere?
... I wish the moon were mine to give... And I could do the feat... Of gathering all stars there are... To offer you, my sweet... But mine is not a silver tongue... I have no words of gold... The only thing that I can do... Is be a little bold... And simply say I love you... I give my heart to you... And hope that you will promise, dear... To be forever true.

Five Charter Members Of Club Honored

Membership of the West Monroe Lions Club paid special tribute Thursday night to five charter members of the organization in a ceremony which recognized 15 years of service performed by the remaining founders.

Receiving special certificates and seats of honor at the banquet were West Monroe Police Chief Jeff Caldwell, Bob Hines, John Bonar, Tom Sanders and Charlie Walls.

They are the only remaining members of the 23 who were charter members of the West Monroe Lions Club formed in December, 1942. Each year, the club honors its charter members but Thursday night's was more significant in that it marked the fifteenth anniversary of the founding of the West Monroe Club.

CERTIFICATES

The handsome framed certificates, each bearing the name of the individual honored, states:

"In recognition of the 15-year anniversary of his invitation as a charter member of the Lions Club, the officers and directors of The International Association of Lions Clubs extend greetings and congratulations... and issue this certificate to verify his right to be henceforth known as a Fifteen Year Charter Monarch member, and to wear the chevron of that rank."

Medical Society Officers Assume New Duties Here

New officers of the Ouachita Parish Medical Society recently assumed their positions, it was announced here yesterday.

Taking over as president was Dr. Felix Willey. President-elect is Dr. Faheam Cannon; vice-president, Dr. M. B. Phillips; and secretary-treasurer, Dr. Fred W. Sartor.

DURING PAST MONTH

Many Enlistments Are Reported Here

Forty-five enlistments in the Officers Training Class. Armed Forces took place through Monroe recruiting stations during five re-enlistments were announced.

Twelve persons, including a West Monroe girl, enlisted in the Air Force.

Kaye F. Antley, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Antley, 501 Linderman St., entered the WAF last Friday.

"She couldn't enlist until she was 18," recruiters revealed, "and the recruiting office was closed on her 18th birthday. Thanks-giving. So she enlisted the next day, for three years."

A 1958 graduate of West Monroe High School, Miss Antley had worked in the Registrar's office at St. Francis hospital.

She is now at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, attending a week's military training.

Miss Carolyn Young of Ruston has also qualified for direct appointment as a commissioned officer in the U. S. Air Force.

Non-prior servicemen enlisting during November included: James E. Gibson, James McMullen, Marshall Douglas, Sammy Tribble and Louis Smith, all of Monroe; Charles R. Horn of West Monroe; Stearns McClanahan, Rayville; Kenneth Bernard, Pioneer; and Cosby Coleman, Jonesboro.

Prior-service men re-enlisting were Michael Garner, Monroe and Billy Shytle, Bastrop.

Two enlistments in the Navy during November were by prior-service personnel: Daniel Garner of Jonesboro and Malcolm L. Collins, Monroe.

The Navy has announced a new policy for accepting recruits: only the brightest youths—those who have the makings of petty officers—are being accepted for the rest of the year.

The quota for the entire nation for December is only 3,300 recruits, all of whom will be eligible for Class A schools immediately following boot training.

James M. Moore of Jonesboro enlisted in the Marines during January. The Marine recruiting office yesterday announced that Marine Captain Constance Baker will be on the campus of North-east College next Thursday and Friday, to interview college women interested in joining the Women's Army Corps.

Re-enlisting were Melvin Boyte, Kilbourne; Lewis Chestnut, Darrell; Walter Dunham, Winnsboro; Gerald Hart, Houma and James King, Tallulah.

Monday, Dec. 8, M-Sgt. Ann Pace of the Women's Army Corps will be at the recruiting office in the Monroe Post Office, to interview young women interested in becoming members of the WAC.

Recruiters also announced that the next Women's Officer Basic Training class will begin on Feb. 23, and applications must be in 2 months before that.

The Army also has a program so young men may enlist in the service now and be at home for Christmas, beginning basic training after the holidays.

Several Area Forest Fires Under Control

WINNSBORO (Special) — Thirty-four forest fires which broke out in this area Thursday were reported out at noon yesterday by Jimmy Woodward, a forestry pilot on his 350-mile air patrol.

Woodward reported two new fires—one in East Carroll parish which was later extinguished, and one in the Tensas parish swamp which was being watched. The Tensas parish fire is considered nominal.

On his afternoon patrol, he reported one fire in Richland parish which burned over 20 acres but was later brought under control. One of Thursday night's fires broke out again in Richland parish and two crews were fighting it last night.

James N. Steven, district forester, said 1,071 acres of woodland have been burned over. In Franklin parish there were 11 fires in an 185-acre area; Richland, 18 fires, 600 acres; Madison parish, two fires, 14 acres; West Carroll, two fires, 180 acres; and East Carroll, two fires, two acres.

The forestry commission said that most of the fires were caused by people burning off fields and brush heaps and that Thursday night's high humidity and decrease of wind helped put them out.

Steven has issued the request that everyone be extremely cautious as this is the most dangerous season of the year for forest fires.

New Officers For Citizens Group Named

Election of officers and expansion plans were announced yesterday by the Ouachita Parish Citizens Council.

New officers are H. L. Driskell, president; H. M. James, vice president; Vaughn L. Phelps, treasurer; Robert W. Kostelka, secretary, and board members Walter Reed, J. G. Rickerson, R. R. Wimberley, G. W. Reitzammer, Billy R. Babb, Ed Hislop Jr., George Cox, Billy L. Adams, John R. Collins, John H. Birdsong, Wayne McDonald and Don Williams. Adams is outgoing president.

President H. L. Driskell said an expansion drive is being planned by the group.

He also stated the organization plans to have an important speaker later this month.

Present location of the council office is 602 North Fifth Street, Monroe, phone FA 5-4800.

Run-Off Election Slated For DA

RAYVILLE (Special)—A run-off election for the post of district attorney for the Fifth Judicial District will be held Saturday when voters of Richland, Franklin and West Carroll parishes will go to the polls.

Voters will choose between W. R. Coenen and C. J. Ellis Jr., the two high candidates in the Nov. 15 primary. W. S. Bassett of Oak Grove was eliminated.

Both candidates are Rayville attorneys.

The successful candidate will fill the two-year unexpired term of Judge Harry N. Anders, former district attorney for the Fifth Judicial District. Judge Anders was elected to the second judgeship for the Fifth District this year, filling a post created by the Louisiana Legislature last summer.

William Midkiff, 43, Monroe, was arrested yesterday by Monroe police at 2300 Louisville and charged with driving while intoxicated and reckless driving. Midkiff was free last night after posting $437 bond.

Two persons were arrested on their charges yesterday. They were Tommy Saucier, of Monroe, who was free on a $300 bond last night, and Mattie Johnson, 31, 1904 Flynn, whose bond was set at $500.

Police apprehended Isiah Walker, 30, 902 Marks, on a battery warrant. Walker posted $100 bond and was released.

Train Accident Victim Reported As Resting Well

Jubie Singleton Sr., 73-year-old Franklin parish Negro, was reported to be resting well in St. Francis Hospital last night after being struck yesterday by an Illinois Central train about eight miles east of Monroe in La Fourche swamp.

The Negro, received lacerations about the shoulder and possible internal injuries.

L. E. Pace, engineer of the train, told sheriff department officers he saw the man but believed he was off the track right away enough to allow the train to pass.

DISTRICT COURT REPORT

Hearing On Plea Scheduled Here

Hearing on an insanity plea by currently, in the state penitentiary.

Theodore Brown, 16, Negro charged with aggravated rape of a four-year-old colored girl, is set for next Friday in Fourth District Court.

Attorneys for the Monroe youth have filed a plea of insanity in his behalf, and Judge Jesse Heard yesterday set the hearing on the plea for next Friday.

Should Brown be found sane and responsible for his actions, he could stand trial for the crime, which carries the death penalty.

Attorneys for Brodie Brown Day, yesterday filed a motion asking for a new trial on grounds that action during the recent murder trial was unfair to the 14-year-old convict, found guilty of the slaying of L. C. Baker, 80, last May.

The two court-appointed attorneys representing Davis entered the motion in an attempt to save him from death in the electric chair. The verdict returned by the jury calls for the death sentence.

However, Davis has not been sentenced yet, pending decision on the motion filed yesterday.

Davis was found guilty by the court, and is customary in capital offense cases to request that the verdict be set aside and a new trial ordered.

Davis was found guilty on Friday night, Nov. 21, following a week-long trial.

ALLEGES

In the move for new trial, his attorneys allege that the verdict was contrary to law and evidence; that errors were committed to the prejudice of Davis; and that the jury was allowed to separate, stayed at night in different rooms of a hotel, had TV sets, and were permitted to contact other persons by telephone.

When questioned about the motion, District Attorney Albin P. Lassiter said that he knows of no ruling preventing jurors from watching television during the time they are restricted in a capital offense case.

He added that the motion apparently does not contain anything which calls for a new trial, but pointed out that it is not for him to decide this.

In other action yesterday, Fourth District Court, George Patton, 19, admitted seven counts of forgery. Judge Heard remanded offense and was fined $25 or 15 days for presentence investigation.

Joseph Stephens, Negro, alias John Massey, pled guilty to forgery and drew 5 years in the penitentiary, suspended. He was placed on probation.

David E. Dougal pled guilty to theft of a car worth $1,000 and was sentenced to three years in the state penitentiary at Angola, with the sentence suspended. He was placed on active probation.

Blanchard Keller, 29-year-old Negro, was sentenced to three years for simple burglary and two years for theft of a gun valued at $75. Both sentences will run concurrently.

Lengthy Lines In Prospect At Post Office

"This is your last opportunity to mail early for Christmas. With in a few days, you will face long lines in the Post Office, heavy traffic in sending packages and cards," warned Monroe Postmaster Woodrow W. Hathorn yesterday.

He voiced appreciation for those who have cooperated by starting their Christmas mailing already, but stated that within a few days patrons will face long lines at the stamp and parcel post windows.

"Each mail carrier is now leaving 'local' and 'out-of-town' labels at all homes on his route, so packages of cards may be tied together, all facing one direction, and properly labeled," the Postmaster pointed out.

"Special pamphlets describing the proper way to package and wrap Christmas parcels for mailing are available from the Superintendent of Mail's office on the main floor of the Post Office," he continued.

Extra helpers have been hired for the Christmas mailing, and all that is needed is that area residents mail early. Postal employees have sent out most of their own Christmas mail, to avoid a last-minute rush.

"We're all set, just waiting for the mail," Hathorn smiled.

He urged that residents check and revise their mailing lists, to protect themselves against lost parcels or cards.

Type or hand-print all gummed mailing labels, using complete addresses, don't abbreviate, and include delivery zone numbers, and in this way temporary help in Post Offices can speed up delivery of mail by sorting it according to zone," Hathorn explained.

He also stressed that all parcels should be insured, adding that insurance rates were not affected by the recent postal rate changes.

City Courts

MONROE
Judge W. M. Harper found Ida Mae Duncan, 23, Calhoun, guilty of prostitution and theft charges yesterday and sentenced her to seven months on each count. Both terms are to run concurrently.

Charged with selling liquor without a permit, Thagus Noble, 42, 113 South 20th St., was given a $500 fine or nine months plus a compulsory one-year jail term.

Two charges — drunken driving and speeding — struck Lucian C. Bomar, 40, Birmingham, Ala. a total of $300 or nine months.

Jake Mitchell, 30, Sterling, was sentenced to a 60-day compulsory term for theft while M. C. Mays, 26, F.D., Foster Homes, was fined $100 or 10 days for carrying a concealed weapon.

Two persons were fined for public drunkenness, three for speeding and one for resisting arrest. Fines ranged from $53 to $120, excluding court costs.

Overparking may result in a jail sentence, as one man found out after being fined $2 or two days for neglecting to feed the meter. He chose the fine.

A $80 bond was forfeited for reckless driving while 13 persons forfeited bonds for speeding, one for having no driver's license, two for drunkenness and five for overparking. Bonds varied from $2 to $27.50 plus court costs.

DeSard who was just closing up and notified the police.

In turn the police notified the manager of the store, and posted a patrolman to keep a lawful eye on the premises. The manager arrived on the scene and the night's incident was explained.

Fortunately for the owners, though, the deserted store was discovered by two young couples whose intentions were anything but dishonorable.

The couples saw the store left for the night, brightly lighted about 9 p.m. last night and decided to browse and only jarred the lock loose, hence perhaps do a little Christmas shopping.

After entering the store, they discovered they had the chance to place to themselves. They con- sidered. There'll be a new lock on ferred with a merchant across the door today.

Setting Is Right For Production

By JOHN CALE
Staff Writer

Last night's chilly winds worked in favor of the snowbound setting for William Inge's "Bus Stop," second production of the season at the Little Theater Playhouse.

The falling temperatures and winds outside the Selman Field establishment blended perfectly with the snowstorm outside Grace's bus stop on the Kansas prairie.

The crowd — and the theater is always pleasantly packed due to a sell-out this season — seemed at first a little slow to warm up to the action. Let it quickly be said this offered no reason, in this viewer's opinion, for the Ivan Ural, director, to force the pace of future productions to a more rapid tempo. After all, the play- right placed a motly group of, was transients in a bus station and, the audience met them while they were waiting. Waiting doesn't go fast.

By the end of the second act, it was obvious that here was one of the best pieces of multi-character development seen in a long time from a group of local players. From the bearded sheriff, played by Roger Reno, to the Shakespeare-quoting Dr. Lyman, played by Bill Smith, the many faces of America revealed themselves in Grace's cafe.

Incidentally, Grace, played by June Swayze, and Virgil Blessing, played by M. B. Swayze — husband and wife, though they worked at opposite ends of the stage were "naturals" in the finest sense of the word.

SUPERR
Swayze's work on the guitar, both solo and supporting to Cherrie, played by Bobbie Strickland, was superb. Swayze also gave excellent support in showing cowhand Bo Decker, played by Doug Hendon, how to make tender love.

There were no minor roles in the play. In Inge's highly complex dramatization of American peasantry and polish, a final salute is due the entire cast: Charlene Corro, June Swayze, Roger Reno, Bobby Strickland, Bill Smith, Ed Anders, M. D. Swayze and Doug Hendon.

An interesting art display in the Playhouse foyers by Dietz von Beulwitz and John Hogan was a significant sidelight to a fine production. Particularly noteworthy are von Beulwitz's sketches of American architecture and bridges.

Von Beulwitz, a German exchange student at Northeast College, made the sketches on a bus trip through the Southwest, West and Midwest last summer.

Woodruff said he hit Bryant on the head with his service revolver and the weapon discharged accidentally. The bullet struck Bryant in the temple.

Three policemen answered a call to the house and found Woodruff, ruff and Bryant in the front yard. Mrs. Woodruff, an orphan, listed as a relative S. A. Jones, 907 Mississippi St., Monroe, who she said is her grandfather.

Pic. Bryant was on a 30-day leave from Ft. Rucker, Ala., pending transfer.

Officials said last night Woodruff was charged with aggravated assault and later released under $500 bond. They reported Woodruff "resigned under pressure."

Police stated in the event of Pic. Bryant's death, the charge will be changed to murder.

Bryant, who was taken to a naval hospital, was given a 30-day chance to live, police said.

Police Chief Hall said Woodruff left his beat in downtown Pensacola about 2 a. m. Thursday night and went to his home where he found his 22-year-old wife, the mother of three children, together.

The Union Producing Co., Shreveport, subsidiary of United Gas Corp., became the 16th company to join in the district court challenge of the tax's constitutionality.

It had the largest quarterly tax payment, $307,000, of any of the protesting gas operators.

Commissioner of Administration James S. Reilly, Long's chief fiscal executive, said he was surprised and disappointed at the company's action. The $397,000 had been anticipated for use in the state budget.

But Reilly said it was "the only disappointment and setback that has developed."

Monroe Soldier Seriously Hurt

PENSACOLA, Fla. (Special) — Patrolman James T. Woodruff, "resigned under pressure" here yesterday after he was charged with aggravated assault when a triangle involving two Monroves exploded into gunfire leaving one injured.

Pic. James Hughes Bryant, 22, of Monroe was critically injured, and authorities said he was given a 50-50 chance to live.

Police chief Crosby Hall said patrolman James T. Woodruff, 26, surrendered to police after the shooting which occurred when he surprised his wife, the former Miss Alma Marie Fuller of Monroe and the soldier, who was on a 30-day leave, together in the Woodruff residence.

Officials said last night Woodruff was charged with aggravated assault and later released under $500 bond. They reported Woodruff "resigned under pressure."

Police stated in the event of Pic. Bryant's death, the charge will be changed to murder.

State Fire Chief Gives Views On School Safety

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — John E. Coon, state fire marshal, said Friday although his department inspects school in the state, the final responsibility for children's safety lies with "those in immediate contact with the schools."

Coon issued a statement in the wake of the Chicago parochial school fire that killed 90 persons.

He said his department's inspections are constant and methodical, but "it is obvious that no state, parish or municipal agency can be present at all times to demand compliance with the basic safety requirements."

Coon said he felt "the state act under which this department functions is adequate for the protection of the lives of our school children."

"School authorities, superintendents, principals, teachers and janitors must see that the proper safeguards are established and maintained," he said.

The Union Producing Co., Shreveport, subsidiary of United Gas Corp., became the 16th company to join in the district court challenge of the tax's constitutionality.

It had the largest quarterly tax payment, $397,000, of any of the protesting gas operators.

Commissioner of Administration James S. Reilly, Long's chief fiscal executive, said he was surprised and disappointed at the company's action. The $397,000 had been anticipated for use in the state budget.

But Reilly said it was "the only disappointment and setback that has developed."

Damage Is Light In Attic Blaze

A malfunctioning heating unit motor caught fire in the attic of Mrs. Loula Smelser's home at 602 Erin yesterday afternoon. Fortunately, the flames did not spread and damage was only slight.

Engines 103, 106 and Ladder Truck 2 of the Monroe Fire Department answered the alarm by Mrs. Smelser and extinguished the fire by means of CO2 in a few minutes. Firemen said size of the blaze did not warrant the use of water.

There were no minor roles in the play. In Inge's highly complex dramatization of American peasantry and polish, a final salute is due the entire cast: Charlene Corro, June Swayze, Roger Reno, Bobby Strickland, Bill Smith, Ed Anders, M. D. Swayze and Doug Hendon.

An interesting art display in the Playhouse foyer by Dietz von Beulwitz and John Hogan was a significant sidelight to a fine production. Particularly noteworthy are von Beulwitz's sketches of American architecture and bridges.

Von Beulwitz, a German exchange student at Northeast College, made the sketches on a bus trip through the Southwest, West and Midwest last summer.

GAINS SEMI-FINALS

Tigers Top Springhill, 28-7, In Playoff Game

By JIM CALHOUN (The finals.) The amazing Neville Tigers, showing speed and power to burn, rolled to a 28-7 victory over Springhill's Lumberjacks to gain the semi-finals in the state AA playoffs here last night.

The Tigers, who showed one of their best offensive efforts of the season, will meet Natchitoches next week end in their battle for when the chips were down.

Neville went ahead 7-0 with three minutes remaining in the first quarter after a 57-yard sustained drive. Howard, Cage and fullback Devone Payne moved in 11 plays down to the Springhill 1-yard line. On first down Turner, who played an outstanding game as field general, circled right end on the option play and bolted into the end zone. Cage then added the conversion.

The Lumberjacks roared right back on the following kickoff. With Slack running and passing like a demon, the 'Jacks rolled 80 yards to score. Slack reeled off two 11-yard runs and passed to Sessions, and Lewis Stahl and Jerry Griffin for 49 more yards to move into scoring position.

On fourth down Slack tossed to halfback Mac Garrett from the two for the touchdown. Griffin split the uprights to tie the game 7-7.

Springhill started another march late in the quarter and drove to Neville's 20 yard line just as the half ended.

Howard turned in a one-man show to give Neville its second marker after the third quarter began. The fleet Tiger senior sprang loose on a 22 yard jaunt to advance the pigskin to Springhill's 24. Cage got 4 on a plunge and Howard carried four straight times to the one and then knifed over for the tally. Cage again added the point.

Cage broke into the touchdown column on the first play of the last period after a 55-yard Tiger drive. The javelin star bulled over from the 1 and kicked the extra point to make it 21-7.

With five minutes remaining in the game the Tigers threw their only pass of the night, a 20-yarder from Turner to Cage for a touchdown. Again Cage converted to make it 28-7.

Springhill fought back on a march deep in Tiger territory, but after four incomplete passes Neville took over on their own 12 and ran out the clock.

Rusty Campbell and Mickey Cox were stalwarts in the Tiger forward wall. Campbell threw Slack for losses several times as the Lumberjack failed to pass. The pint-sized Campbell missed a large part of the season due to illness.

Ross Nolan also stood out for Neville defensively, while end David Boucher held down the Lumberjack line.

Springhill completed 11 out of 31 passes and rolled up 86 yards rushing. Neville completed one for one and gained 295 yards on the ground.

Van Odom, superintendent of Monroe city schools, announced late last night Neville will meet Natchitoches' Red Devils here next Friday night in Neville Stadium for the right to move into the state title finals.

Istrouma In 39 To 0 Win Over Jesuit

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Istrouma struck for three touchdowns in the second quarter and went on to hand Jesuit a 39-0 mauling in a first-round Triple-A football playoff Friday night.

The victory sent coach Fuzzy Brown's team into the second round against Lake Charles which drew an opening round bye.

Sieve Ward started the scoring parade with a 42-yard run. Istrouma tallied again after Arlen Welch blocked a Jesuit punt on the 18 with Rob Sonnier going over from the five.

Lynn Amedee fired a 30-yard pass to Don McCollister for Istrouma's third score.

Early in the second half, Daryl Morris raced 82 yards for a fourth touchdown. Istrouma added two tallies in the final period. Amedee went over from the eight-yard line and Jack Webb sneaked a foot for the final touchdown.

Amedee converted twice and Ward kicked another extra point. Istrouma's rugged defense limited Pat Screen of Jesuit to 18 yards rushing on 17 carries. Adrian Colon gained 47 of the 64 yards the Jays netted on the ground. Screen completed eight of 26 passes for 104 yards but the visitors never made a serious threat.

FORT NECESSITY

Defeats Wisner

FORT NECESSITY, La. (Special) — Host and tournament favorite Fort Necessity boys ran roughshod over Wisner, 80-33, here last night to enter the semi-finals of the Fort Necessity Basketball Tournament.

Milton Linder and A. J. Burlew each scored 22 points to pace the rout of Wisner. Flowers led Wisner's attack with 11 points. Winsboro edged Gilbert, 49-44. Grayson routed Mangham, 49-33, and Central beat Pride, 55-40, to gain the other semi-final berths in the boys division.

Simon scored 16 points for Winsboro while Sewell got 17 for Gilbert. Ferrand's 25 were tops for Grayson and Mercer led Mangham with 20. Daughdrill poured in 33 points to spark Central's victory while Jenkins got 19 for Pride.

In the girls division, Ogden beat Wisner, 43-21. Grayson edged Mangham, 41-39, and Winsboro squeezed past Gilbert, 40-44.

Thompson scored 17 for Ogden while Cody got 9 for Wisner. Brown scored 18 for Grayson but Johns of Mangham was high scorer for the game with 21. All-state Claudine Watson sacked 31 points for Winsboro while Ross got 19 for Pioneer.

Central plays Grayson today at 10:30 a.m. and Winsboro meets Ogden at 11:45 a.m. in the girls semi-finals while Fort Necessity tackles Winsboro at 1:00 p.m. and Grayson tests Central at 2:30 in the boys semi-finals. The girls finals will start at 7 and the boys at 8:15.

Recreation Basketball

College Place, St. Matthew's and Cypress took victories in last night's Church "A" League action. College Place downed Trinity, 52-37, as Eddie McGowan scored 25 points for the winners and Sanford got 17 for Trinity.

Bill Phillips scored 12 points to pace St. Matthew's 49-21 win over First Methodist. Duhon was high for the Methodists with 13. Cypress beat Temple, 44-22, as J. Wagner scored 12 for Cypress and Billy Thomas got 7 for the losers.

In the Church "B" League, Trinity Baptist whipped Brownville, 30-22, as Duncan scored 14. Works and Reeves got 10 each for the losers.

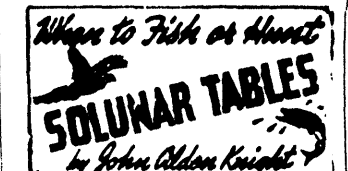

New Light beat College Place, 35-18, as Jones scored 10 and Bushnell 8. Victory took a 35-32 triumph over St. Paschal's. Bennett scored 15 for the winners and Norman tallied 18 for the losers.

J-H WINS, 79-73 JONESBORO, La. (Special) — A couple of all-stars named John put on a scored show here Friday night as Jonesboro-Hodge edged Tioga, 79-73. Jonesboro-Hodge won the night's opener, a "B" game, 31-24.

Jonesboro-Hodge's John Bailey sacked 41 points to take the night's high-scoring honors while Tioga's John Belk was two points behind with 39. Both players have made all-state for the past two years.

Tioga led at the half, 41-40. The victory left the hosts record at 11-5 for the season and Tioga is now 10-4. Jonesboro-Hodge will play Pineville here next Tuesday night.

Holly Ridge Takes 14-6 Playoff Over Crowville

RAYVILLE, La. (Special) — Holly Ridge's Eagles turned back Crowville, district 3-B champions, for the second time this season, 14-6, here last night to march to the state class B semi-finals.

District 2-B titlist Holly Ridge struck from behind in the second period for a 7-6 lead at halftime and added a second touchdown with a touchdown early in the fourth period to win. Half-second, Gilmer Lee sprinted 45 yards off tackle for the score. The attempted conversion by Van Haelly was no good. Holly Ridge came back to tie it up on the Sistrunk-to-Spurlock pass and went ahead on McManus' conversion. Spurlock climaxed a long drive in the fourth with his touchdown plunge.

Holly Ridge was stopped eight yards from another touchdown later in the fourth period. The

Marion Tourney At Semi-Finals

MARION, La. (Special) — The Hutig, Ark., High School boys saved Arkansas teams from a whitewashing at the annual Marion Invitational Basketball Tournament yesterday, as other Arkansas clubs in general fell before Louisiana rivals.

Spearsville advanced both boys and girls to the semi-finals along with the Linville and Farmerville girls, and the Marion and Hutig boys. The Linville boys also appeared headed for one of the semi-final berths as they were leading Strong, Ark., 22-16, at the half in the last game on the card late last night.

Yesterday's results were: Girls — Spearsville 36, Parker's Chapel, Ark., 33; Linville 53, Hutig 38; Farmerville 50, Strong, Ark., 49.

Boys — Spearsville 83, Parker's Chapel 55; Marion 63, Crosssett 36; Hutig 52, Farmerville 38; at the half, Linville 22, Strong 16.

Today's semi-final pairings: Marion girls vs. Linville, 1 p.m.; Marion boys vs. Hutig, 2 p.m.; Farmerville girls vs. Spearsville, 3 p.m.; Spearsville boys vs. Linville-Strong winner, 4 p.m. The girls' final will begin at 8 p.m., and the boys' championship game starts at 9 p.m.

The leading scorers in yesterday's games were Barron, 18, Spearsville girls; Bailey, 9, Parker's Chapel girls; Futch, 24, Spearsville boys; Cameron, 22, Parker's Chapel boys; Ford, 38, Linville girls; Spels, 22, Hutig girls; Andrews, 22, Marion boys; Bolin, 16, Crosssett boys; Hay, 24, Farmerville girls; Hammons, 22, Strong girls; Little, 19, Hutig boys; Holloway, 13, Farmerville boys.

Eagles threatened in the first quarter but were halted on the Crowville 15.

Edgar Upton, principal of Holly Ridge High, announced at 11 p.m. last night that the Eagles will play Oberlin here next Friday night in their state semi-final game.

Holly Ridge defeated Crowville, 26-6, in a regularly-scheduled game midway of the season. Last night's win was the 9th of the season for Holly Ridge against four losses. Coach Elmo Martin's Eagles whipped Plain Dealing, 1-B champions, 13-6, last week to gain the shot at Crowville, which drew a first-round bye.

Eagles Will Try To Hobble Brown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Jimmy Brown, the rugged, rushing mainstay of the Cleveland Browns, experienced his worst two games just after he had broken the National Football League's one-season ground gaining record. If the Philadelphia Eagles can halt him again Sunday, it may be the turning point in the league's Eastern Division race.

Cleveland won both games although Brown was limited to 66 yards by the Eagles Nov. 23 and to 12 yards by the Washington Redskins last Sunday. He had piled up 1,163 yards in eight previous games, wiping out the record 1,146 made by Philadelphia's Steve Van Buren in 12 games in 1949.

The Browns go into their next to last game of the season one game ahead of the New York Giants and with a chance to clinch their second straight Eastern Division title. While Cleveland is playing the Eagles in Philadelphia, the Giants visit Detroit, always a troublesome opponent for the New Yorkers.

Cleveland's record is 8-2, New York's 7-3 with two games to go. The third-place Pittsburgh Steelers (6-4) play the Redskins at Washington, hoping to preserve their outside chance of making it a three-way tie.

The Baltimore Colts, who already have clinched the Western Division title with nine victories in 10 games, play the Rams at Los Angeles Saturday in a nationally televised game over CBS, 4:30 p.m., EST. Colt quarterback Johnny Unitas can crack Cecil Isbell's NFL record of passing for touchdowns in 23 consecutive games.

The Rams (6-4) are tied for second in the west with the Chicago Bears, who stage their annual hometown donnybrook with the Cardinals Sunday. The other Sunday game sends the west's last place Green Bay Packers to San Francisco to meet the 49ers.

Although the Eagles stopped Brown two weeks ago, they couldn't stop Bob Mitchell, whose kick returns of 98 and 68 yards were the difference in Cleveland's 28-14 victory. The Eagles, as usual will count mainly on the pitching of veteran Norm Van Brocklin and the catching of Pete Retzlaff. Slot back Tommy McDonald, who missed last Sunday's game, also will be available.

The Giants, who beat Philadelphia last week without their top quarterback, 37-year-old Charlie Conerly, go into the Detroit game in uncertain physical condition. Conerly and defensive backs Jim Patton and Emlen Tunnell all suffered from flu or virus attacks during the week, and offensive halfback Alex Webster likely won't start because of a leg injury. The Lions also are under par at several key positions.

No Verdict Given On Boyd's Fate

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Factions favoring and opposing Sam Boyd as football coach of Baylor met for four hours Friday night and no decision was reached on whether Boyd will be retained or fired.

Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor, said "no decision has been made on the fate of Boyd. The faculty committee will make a decision within the next 24 hours. The committee headed by Dean Abner McCall will make its report to me and I will in turn relay the message to the Baylor board of trustees."

Boyd, who has been head coach of Baylor for three years and has had last place teams in the Southwest Conference race the past two, has been on the pan for months.

It all reached a head Friday night when ex-students, former athletes, trustees and the administration met at Lake Waco and discussed the situation from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m., without reaching a decision.

Earlier Boyd had denied a report that he would resign. He has a year left on his contract.

One faction wants to extend Boyd's contract, another wants to force him out even to the extent of buying up his contract.

Thursday night George Sauer, the athletic director, resigned with the statement that he would enter private business.

Canadian Team Signs Robinson As Head Coach

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP)—Wayne Robinson, assistant coach of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers Friday said he has accepted an offer to coach British Columbia of the Western Interprovincial Football Union. At 28, he becomes the youngest head coach in Canadian pro ball.

Robinson, a former defensive lineman with the University of Minnesota and the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, succeeds Dan Edwards, an interim coach after Clem Crowe was released in September.

BASTROP TOURNEY

Four Teams From Twin Cities Advance

BASTROP, La. (Special) — Bastrop sent both its basketball machines into the semi-finals of the annual Bastrop Invitational Tournament here last night along with four representatives from the Twin Cities of Monroe and West Monroe.

The Holly Ridge girls and the Forest boys make up the rest of the semi-final cast.

Twin Cities contenders still in the running are Ouachita and West Monroe girls, and the Neville and St. Matthew's boys.

St. Matthew's Fighting Irish eliminated Ouachita of Monroe, 48-36, yesterday and the Forest boys polished off the West Monroe Rebels, 56-45. In the nightcap, the Bastrop Rams romped over Kilbourne, 79-49.

30, and the Ouachita girls beat Mer Rouge, 33-28.

Team scoring leaders were Dawson, 18, Mer Rouge girls; Price, 18, Ouachita girls; Jimmy Tonnore, 25, St. Matthew's; Harry Crowe, Tommy Hendrix, and Pat Ward, 7 each, Ouachita; G. Kelly, 21, Forest boys; Tatum and Griggs, 12 each, West Monroe boys; Smith, 34, West Monroe girls; Johnson, 11, Lake Providence girls; Spigner, 23, and Brakefield, 21, Bastrop boys; and Hendrix, 21, Kilbourne boys.

Today's semi-finals are Bastrop girls vs. Ouachita, 10 a.m.; Holly Ridge girls vs. West Monroe, 11:15; St. Matthew's boys vs. Bastrop, 1:30 p.m.; Neville boys vs. Forest, 2:45. Consolation games begin at 5:30 and 6:45 p.m., and the championship contests open at 8 and 9:15 p.m.

Boyd, who has been head coach of Baylor for three years and has had last place teams in the Southwest Conference race the past two, has been on the pan for months.

It all reached a head, former athletes, trustees and the administration met at Lake Waco and discussed the situation from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m. without reaching a decision.

Earlier Boyd had denied a report that he would resign. He has a year left on his contract.

One faction wants to extend Boyd's contract, another wants to force him out even to the extent of buying up his contract.

Eagles Will Try To Hobble Brown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jimmy Brown, the rugged, rushing mainstay of the Cleveland Browns, experienced his worst two games just after he had broken the National Football League's one-season ground gaining record. If the Philadelphia Eagles can halt him again Sunday, it may be the turning point in the league's Eastern Division race.

Cleveland won both games although Brown was limited to 66 yards by the Eagles Nov. 23 and to 12 yards by the Washington Redskins last Sunday. He had piled up 1,163 yards in eight previous games, wiping out the record 1,146 made by Philadelphia's Steve Van Buren in 12 games in 1949.

The Browns go into their next to last game of the season one game ahead of the New York Giants and with a chance to clinch their second straight Eastern Division title. While Cleveland is playing the Eagles in Philadelphia, the Giants visit Detroit, always a troublesome opponent for the New Yorkers.

Cleveland's record is 8-2. New York's 7-3 with two games to go. The third-place Pittsburgh Steelers (6-4) play the Redskins at Washington, hoping to preserve their outside chance of making it a three-way tie.

The Baltimore Colts, who already have clinched the Western Division title with nine victories in 10 games, play the Rams at Los Angeles Saturday in a nationally televised game over CBS, 4:30 p.m., EST. Colt quarterback Johnny Uflin can crack Cecil Isbell's NFL record of passing for touchdowns in 23 consecutive games.

The Rams (6-4) are tied for second in the west with the Chicago Bears, who stage their annual hometown donnybrook with the Cardinals Sunday. The other Sunday game sends the west's last-place Green Bay Packers to San Francisco to meet the 49ers.

Although the Eagles stopped Brown two weeks ago, they couldn't stop Bob Mitchell, whose kick returns of 98 and 68 yards were the difference in Cleveland's 28-14 victory. The Eagles, as usual will count mainly on the pitching of veteran Norm Van Brocklin and the catching of Pete Retzlaff. Slot back Tommy McDonald, who missed last Sunday's game, also will be available.

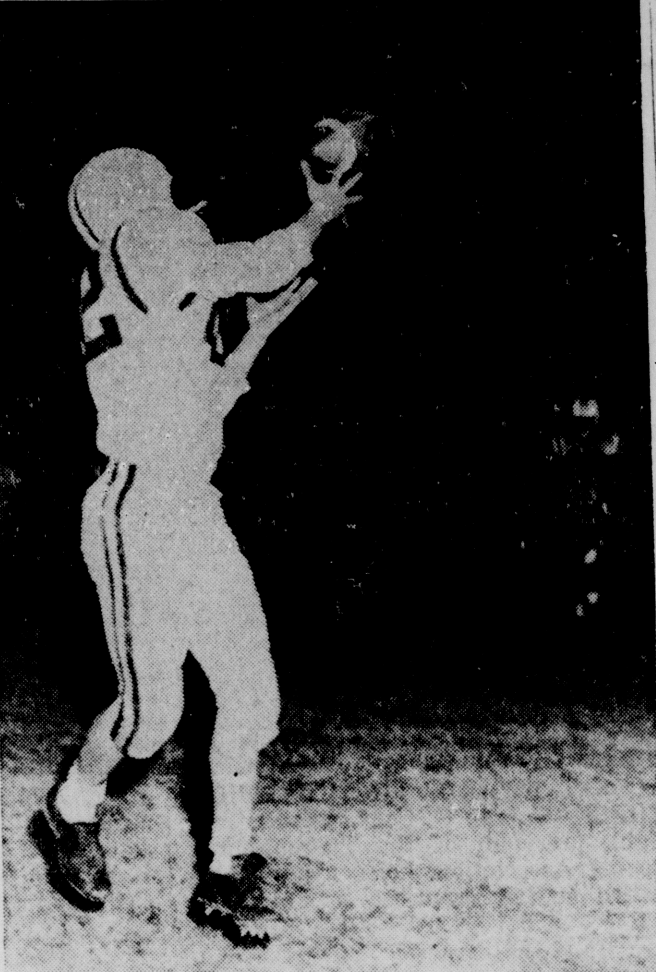

The Giants, who beat Philadelphia last week without their top quarterback, 37-year-old Charlie Conerly, go into the Detroit game

Eagles threatened in the first quarter but were halted on the Crowville 15.

Edgar Upton, principal of Holly Ridge High, announced at 11 p.m. last night that the Eagles will play Oberlin here next Friday night in their state semi-final game.

Holly Ridge defeated Crowville, 26-6, in a regularly-scheduled game midway of the season. Last night's win was the 9th of the season for Holly Ridge against four losses. Coach Elmo Martin's Eagles whipped Plain Dealing, 1-B champions, 13-6, last week to gain the shot at Crowville, which drew a first-round bye.

DAWKINS SECOND

Louisiana State's Billy Cannon UPI Back Of Year

By JOE SARGIS
NEW YORK (UPI)—Billy Cannon, who averaged six yards per carry while sparking Louisiana State to a perfect season, Friday was named college football's "Back of the Year" in the annual United Press International poll.

Cannon, a triple-threat back and all-around athlete who has run 100 yards in 9.5 seconds, won the poll in a walk. He received the votes of 99 of the 297 sports writers and broadcasters who took part in the nationwide balloting.

Pete Dawkins, Army halfback, was runner-up with 59 votes and ranked among 17 players with Joe Kapp, California quarterback, fourth with 30. Dick Bass, College of Pacific halfback, and Bob White, Ohio State fullback, tied for fifth with 10 each.

Cannon and Dawkins also ran 1-2 last week in the voting for the UPI All-America team with the LSU star topping the Army back by a slight margin.

Cannon, 20, is a junior pre-dental student. He stands 6-1 and weighs 200 pounds. He gained 686 yards on 115 rushes in 10 games while helping LSU become the nation's only undefeated-untied major college team of 1958. He also passes and catches passes and his punting average of 34.5 yards probably would have been better except for the fact that his team spent most of its time in the opposition's territory this year.

Cannon, in New York for an All-America dinner, said his teammates and coaches made it possible for him to win the "Back of the Year" poll.

"I never could have gained this honor without the help of my coaches and all the boys on our team," Cannon said. "It's a dream come true. In fact, this whole season has been a dream for us all."

Cannon named three coaches who played major roles in his athletic career—Alvin Roy, an Olympic trainer who helped him at Istrouma High School in Baton Rouge, La.; James Brown, another high school coach, and Paul Dietzel, head coach at LSU. Dietzel appeared happier about Cannon's latest honor than Cannon himself.

"It's a wonderful thing," Dietzel said at Baton Rouge. "It proves my repeated statement that Billy Cannon is the finest football player I've ever coached. Last year as a soph he was an outstanding runner, but this year he developed into a tremendous blocker, a fine faker and excellent pass receiver."

"In short, he does everything well with power and speed," Cannon's offensive prowess stood out particularly in his team's victories over Tulane, Florida and Kentucky. He played brilliant defense games against Mississippi and Mississippi State and was singled out by Dietzel as his team's best blocker against Duke. With LSU trailing in that game, Cannon outran the Duke secondary and took a pass from Warren Rabb for a 60-yard gain that proved the key play of the contest.

One little guy who looks like a cinch to repeat on the United Press International's "Small America" basketball team for players 5-10 and under is Don Hennon of Pittsburgh. Hennon, who made the "big" All-America last year, too, popped in 41 points against Ohio State the other night. He's 5-8.

After a one-year experiment with the team nickname of "Violent Vikings," New York University basketballers have reverted to the old, old designation of just plain "Violets" as a result of protests from NYU stars of yesteryear in both football and basketball. Those tough old boys weren't exactly shrinking violets in their heyday and they were proud of the name.

Schaus had predicted that the top-ranked mountaineers would lose some games this season. "But nobody believed me then," he said. "Now they do."

Schaus analyzed his teams performance this way: "We miss the height at center and the speed at guards this season, especially on defense. We've been running well and shooting well on the fast break, but we haven't been able to get our set offense moving."

Schaus said individually the players looked good. It is as a team where they suffer. "We have some fishing to do in order to get the best combination in there. This year, we have so many players of near-equal ability. It will take time to get a set combination."

DORADO BEACH

Jacobs Leading In Puerto Rico

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico (AP)—Tommy Jacobs, who for-sakes the pro tourney here Sunday to hurry to California for his wedding, marched through the steaming jungles of the Dorado Beach Golf Club Friday in 68 strokes for a one stroke lead in the $30,000 Invitation Golf Tournament.

Jacobs, 23, and the son of a pro, said he was shooting no better Friday than Thursday when he birdied six holes and went over regulation on only the second and 13th.

He had a 71 Thursday and his combined total of 139 was one stroke better than that of Wesley Ellis Jr. of Alderess, N.J., who totaled 72-68-140 for his two trips over the 7,115-yard jungle layout that has a par of 36-35-72.

Howie Johnson of Glenwoodville, Ill., the first day leader with a 70, took a 71 in Friday's round over the rapidly drying course for 141 and third place.

Eighteen hole rounds Saturday and Sunday will complete this tourney the first major golf event held in this part of the Caribbean.

The course, part of a 92-million-dollar resort area built by Laurence Rockefeller, is carved out of the lush tropical jungle. The layout was designed by Robert Trent Jones, Ed Dudley, one-time teacher of President Eisenhower at Augusta, is the pro.

Jacobs birdied four holes on the out nine, starting with a 15-foot putt on the first. He came out of a trap within 18 inches of the pin on the fifth and rammed it home. He dropped 17 footers on both the sixth and eighth for the other birds.

Coming home he canned successive birdies on the 11th and 12th, banishing home a 30-footer on the huge carpet at the latter.

His first visit over par in the two days was on the second, where he needed three putts to get down. His only other bogey was on the 210-yard 13th, where his tee shot was hole high, but in the heavy rough.

Jacobs, the second youngest player on the tour, will be married Dec. 14 in Whittier, Calif., where his father is a golf course manager.

BUSY

Heavy Slate Faces Jena Basketballers

JENA, La. (Special) — Busy days face the Jena high school boys and girls basketball teams before the Christmas holiday "break" according to schedules listed this week by W. D. Tullos, head basketball coach.

The girls play their first game Friday, meeting the winner of the Pollock-Simpson contest.

Next week will be spent on the road with trips by the boys and girls to Toga Dec. 9 and to Columbia Dec. 11. The following week Enterprise high school boys and girls will visit Jena Dec. 16 and efforts are being made to arrange games for a presently open date on Dec. 18.

The last pre-Christmas activity will be on Saturday, Dec. 20, when the "B" and varsity boys travel to Natchez, Miss., for a return meeting with the Magnolia staters.

This will be the last competition for the Black and Gold until after New Year's when they participate in the annual "Tournament of the Pines" at LaSalle high school in Olla on Jan. 2-3, 1959.

The Jena boys are "loaded" this year, but Coach Tullos hastily adds the qualification "with experience." Of some 14 "first string" players, Coach Tullos points out that Donald Joiner is the only player with "first-string" varsity experience although there are several seniors on the squad.

Joiner, all-district and honorable mention all-state last season, currently is averaging a fraction over 20 points per game in the six contests already played.

To date, the Giants have downed Ruston and walloped Sikes twice for three victories, while losing single contests to Grayson, Neville of Monroe and Simsboro.

An "also ran" in District 3-AA competition last season, the Giants are hopeful for better things this campaign but face a tough opponent in getting their district campaign off the ground.

Newcomer Leesville, added to the district this past football season, will visit Jena Friday, Jan. 9, for a boys and girls basketball double header and the Vernon parish crew promises to be extra tough in basketball this year, as usual.

Jena's girls, under the coaching of Mrs. Jelly Piggott, are giving indications they are headed for another banner season, currently sporting a 4-1 record, they only loss being a two-point defeat by Winfield in an overtime contest at the Chatham tournament.

The Jena lassies have downed Atlanta, taken two games from Sikes and soundly trounced the defending state AA girls champions from Neville of Monroe for their victories to date.

The Lady Giants are paced by Patty Simmons and Elaine Hargrove, the top scoring forwards, and get strong support at the guard posts from Pat Willis, Bonnie Jeter and Jane Owens.

TRADE RUMORED

Open Season On Phillies' Ashburn

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—It's open season again on Richie Ashburn.

If you listen to baseball writers, fans and even Ashburn himself, there should be no doubt the National League batting champion will be displaying his talents in 1959 in flannels other than those of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Each winter, starting with the annual baseball meeting, Ashburn is traded for the Phillies. And each summer the Nebraska tow-head is shagging flies and lacing base hits all over the lot for the same Phillies.

Ashburn, who himself helps fan the trade rumors, said in Milwaukee recently, "I believe my chances of being traded are better than ever. The Phillies finished last with me. What have they got to lose without me?"

Nothing, Rich, only your boss. General Manager Roy Hamey plans to lose (?) you again next summer unless the other major league clubs allegedly interested in your talents start talking in terms other than their second line troops in exchange for you.

Yes, Rich, you are expendable. Mr. Hamey will trade you. But only for value.

"We'll trade Ashburn but only for an established major league player who can help our club," says Hamey.

"We're not peddling the guy. But we'll listen to reasonable offers. We're not going to trade for the sake of trading," adds Hamey, who recently negotiated the biggest deal of the winter baseball meetings—pitcher Jack Sanford for pitcher Ruben Gomez and catcher Valmy Thomas of the San Francisco Giants.

Hamey places high value on Ashburn and the statistics certainly bear him out.

Ashburn, who generally is referred to as a ping pong hitter in this era of the long ball, can offer the following facts at contract time:

1. Led both leagues in hitting with a .350 average.
2. Led both leagues in triples with 13.
3. Topped both leagues in total hits, 215.
4. Missed by one, 31-30 of topping the National League in stolen bases. Willie Mays edged him in the final days of the season.
5. Shagged more than 400 putouts (495) for the 9th straight year.
6. Leads all active major leaguers in stolen bases with 130 during his career.

Unitas Shoots For Passing Record Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—With the Western Conference Championship already won, the Baltimore Colts send clever quarterback Johnny Unitas after a National Football League passing record Saturday.

Unitas has thrown touchdown passes in 23 straight league games. And if he connects for one against the Los Angeles Rams, he will break the record of 23 set by Cecil Isbell of the Green Bay Packers in 1941-42.

Clear, cool weather and a crowd of 75,000 or more are expected for the 4:35 p.m. EST. kickoff. The game will be televised nationally by CBS.

The Colts have won nine of 10 games. The Rams (6-4) are tied for second place in the conference with the Chicago Bears.

The Colt coach, Webb Ewbank, declared the club came here to play football, not to coast along while looking ahead to its championship playoff game later this month with the Eastern Division winner.

He named his regular offensive unit to lead off.

Still unhappy over a 34-7 licking received from the Colts two weeks ago in Baltimore, Coach Sid Gillman promised a few new tricks from the Rams.

"We have eliminated the fumble play, for one," said Gillman, with a wry grin. "Fumbles cost us the first game. We could have won it."

Patterson Ready For Johansson

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson wants to fight Sweden's Ingemar Johansson.

"And I hope soon," said Patterson. "He's the No. 1."

The 23-year-old champ has been out of action since Aug. 18, when he stopped Texan Roy Harris in the 12th round, and he's itching to fight.

After he had whipped Harris, Patterson said he hoped to fight again soon.

He expressed that desire again Thursday night at Sunnyside Garden, where he watched his unbeaten stalemate, middleweight Jose Torres, rack up his ninth consecutive victory by stopping Ike Jenkins of New York in the fifth round.

"I weigh about 190," said Patterson, who scaled 184½ against Harris. "I've been training right along. I expect to fight early next year."

Whether Johansson, the undefeated European champion, will get the next shot or any crack at Patterson's title this year still remained a mystery.

His manager, Gus D'Amato, wouldn't comment. D'Amato recently conferred in secret here with Johansson and his Swedish "adviser," Edwin Ahlquist, about a title fight, but D'Amato said nothing had been settled.

Johansson, the leading contender, is anxious to fight Patterson in the United States.

DAWKINS SECOND

Louisiana State's Billy Cannon UPI Back Of Year

By JOE SARGIS
NEW YORK (UPI)—Billy Cannon, who averaged six yards per carry while sparking Louisiana State to a perfect season, Friday was named college football's "Back of the Year" in the annual United Press International poll.

Cannon, a triple-threat back and all-around athlete who has run 100 yards in 9.5 seconds, won the poll in a walk. He received the votes of 99 of the 297 sports writers and broadcasters who took part in the nationwide balloting.

Pete Dawkins, Army halfback, was runner-up with 39 votes and Randy Duncan, Iowa quarterback, was third with 49. These three stars accounted for 207 of the votes cast.

The remaining 90 were scattered among 17 players with Joe Kapp, California quarterback, fourth with 30. Dick Bass, College of Pacific halfback, and Bob White, Ohio State fullback, tied for fifth with 10 each.

ONLY FOUR SENIORS

Tigers Ignored By Pro Drafters

By STEVE SNIDER
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Sports of all sorts:

Some of the lads who follow pro football made a point that "if Louisiana State has such a hot football team how come the pros didn't draft a single LSU player in the first four rounds?"

Answer: Who could they draft? The nation's No. 1 team (10-0) and Sugar Bowl bound) had only four seniors on the entire squad. All-American Billy Cannon, nifty quarterback Warren Rabb, bang-bang center Max Fugler, speedy halfback Jimmy Robinson all are juniors. Paul Dietzel's squad included 33 sophomores and 21 juniors. Look out '59!

Gil McDougald of the Yankees got a double bonus out of the World Series triumph over the Milwaukee Braves. Among other off-season activities for Gil is a building maintenance business (floor-waxing, etc.) and business has doubled since the Series.

Robin Roberts Disappointed Over Refusal

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—National League player representative Robin Roberts said Friday he was "naturally disappointed" but he anticipated the major league baseball owners' flat rejection Thursday of player demands for 20 per cent of gross revenue for player salaries each year.

"We think if we stay with our request and show them that it's reasonable we'll make progress," he said.

From the Pittsburgh Pirates' infielder Gene Baker, on the disabled list the last half of the season because of a knee injury and operation, reports he is working out with weights and doing other exercises at home in Davenport, Iowa, trying to get in shape for next season. He's selling insurance on the side.

Eastern football fans who wondered why Tom Green, Holy Cross passing star, wasn't drafted by the pros can take it from Tommy—he doesn't want to play pro football. Each club that sounded him out before the draft got that answer, so he was passed up.

One little guy who looks like a cinch to repeat on the United Press International's "Small America" basketball team (for players 5-10 and under) is Don Hennon of Pittsburgh. Hennon, who made the "big" All-American last year, too, popped in 41 points against Ohio State the other night. He's 5-8.

Roberts, star pitcher of the Philadelphia Phillies and one of baseball's highest paid players, echoed sentiments expressed by J. Norman Lewis, attorney for the Players' Assn. Like Lewis, Roberts said no "so-called drastic action is planned. We want to do this right."

After a one-year experiment with the team nickname of "Violet Vikings," New York University basketballers have reverted to the old, old designation of just plain "Violets" as a result of protests from NYU stars of yesterday in both football and basketball. Those tough old boys weren't exactly shrinking violets in their heyday and they were proud of the name.

Roberts said that he, Lewis and Eddie Yost, American League player representative, would meet with the league owners' executive committee in January to press their case.

He said they would try to prove these points:

That major league salaries had been dwindling in comparison to over-all revenues. He said that in the 1956 season, the latest figures available showed salaries were only 14 per cent of gross income.

That bonuses paid for untied rookies last year totaled about the same as salaries paid all 400 major league players. This year, said Roberts, would be a good one in which to toss more money into a player salary fund. Roberts was a bonus player, signing with the Phils for $25,000.

He said they would try to prove these points:

That for the amount of income received by clubs the major league ball players, who he said average $15,000 a year, are not unusually highly paid. "You have to remember that the 400 major league players are the most highly skilled of all ball players."

That obligating each club to pay 20 per cent of its gross revenues for salaries would not work against the players with the clubs with the least revenues. "Those with rich clubs like the Yankees are getting more anyway."

That ball players, along with club owners, actually have undervalued themselves.

That for the amount of income received by clubs the major league ball players, who he said average $15,000 a year, are not unusually highly paid. "You have to remember that the 400 major league players are the most highly skilled of all ball players."

Pro golf has done its bit for many a worthy charity, including a big tournament benefit for the Boys Club of New York to help combat juvenile delinquency. Newest major affair comes up in mid-January at Punta Gorda, Fla., in behalf of the "Fight for Sight" campaign of the National Council to Combat Blindness.

DECISION

Jordan Defeats Akins For Welterweight Title

By BOB MYERS
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Underdog Don Jordan of Los Angeles captured the welterweight championship of the world Friday night as he handed champion Virgil Akins of St. Louis a bad beating to win a 15-round decision.

The 24-year-old challenger, a 3-1

underdog going into the ring at Vince Martinez in St. Louis last June.

After the first few rounds of the nationally televised fight it was apparent that Akins was in for a rough evening.

Akins was an even money favorite to knock out Jordan, something no other fighter had done in the Californian's 55 previous fights. The champion was the one who was hanging on and all but wrecked in the 10th.

DORADO BEACH

Jacobs Leading In Puerto Rico

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico (AP)—Tommy Jacobs, who forsakes the tour journey here Sunday to hurry to California for his wedding, marched through the steaming jungles of the Dorado Beach Golf Club Friday in 68 strokes for a one stroke lead in the $30,000 Invitation Golf Tournament.

Coming home he canned successive birdies on the 11th and 12th, banging home a 30-footer on the huge carpet at the latter.

His first visit over par in the two days was on the second, where he needed three putts to get down. His only other bogey was on the 210-yard 13th, where his tee shot was hole high, but in the heavy rough.

Jacobs, 23, and the son of a pro, said he was shooting no better Friday than Thursday when he birdied six holes and went over regulation on only the second and 13th.

Jordan was the better boxer as everyone anticipated, but he met the roughhouse tactics of the champion on even if not better terms. Jordan came up with a slight cut over the right eye and a worse one over the left. He fought much of the time with blood trickling down his face but it didn't seem to bother him much. The crowd kept up a steady roar of disapproval as Akins crowded in, his head bobbing up and down in the clinches, and Jordan was so furious that he swung intentionally at Akins just after the final bell sounded.

He had a 71 Thursday and his combined total of 139 was one stroke better than that of Wesley Ellis Jr. of Alderess, N.J., who totaled 72-68-140 for his two trips over the 7,115-yard jungle layout that has a par of 36-35-72.

Jordan won the right to meet Akins for the title for his decisions over Isaac Logart and Gaspar Ortega. An overgrown lightweight, he figured to give Akins a battle but hardly to dethrone a veteran of 67 fights, of which 28 ended in knockouts for the St. Louis battler.

Howie Johnson of Glenwood, Ill., the first day leader with a 70, took a 71 in Friday's round over the rapidly drying course for 141 and third place.

Eighteen hole rounds Saturday and Sunday will complete this tourney the first major golf event held in this part of the Caribbean.

The pattern of the fight followed almost identically round by round. Akins kept crowding in, throwing punches for all angles, and catching many of Jordan's blows on his elbows, forearms and even the top of his head.

The course, part of a 9½-million-dollar resort area built by Laurence R. Rockefeller, is carved out of the lush tropical jungle. The layout was designed by Robert Trent Jones, Ed Dudley, one-time teacher of President Eisenhower at Augusta, is the pro.

Jordan, with his more polished offense, repeatedly jarred and shook up the champion. His best round was the 10th. He caught Akins with a whistling straight right to the jaw and backed him into the Jordan corner. Akins was almost helpless but managed to scramble across the ring to his own corner. Jordan kept up the bombardment in a vicious but unsuccessful attempt to score a knockout.

The last pre-Christmas activity will be on Saturday, Dec. 20, when the "B" and varsity boys travel to Natchez, Miss., for a return meeting with the Magnolia stagers.

This will be the last competition for the Black and Gold until after New Year's when they participate in the annual "Tournament of the Pines" at LaSalle high school in Olla on Jan. 2-3, 1959.

The Jena boys are "loaded" this year. But Coach Tullos hastily adds the qualification "with inexperience." Of some 14 "first string" players, Coach Tullos points out that Donald Joiner is the only player with "first-string, varsity experience" although there are several seniors on the squad.

Heavy Slate Faces Jena Basketball

JENA, La. (Special)—Busy days face the Jena high school boys and girls basketball teams before the Christmas holiday "break" according to schedules listed this week by W. D. Tullos, head basketball coach.

The girls play their first game in the Georgetown tournament Friday, meeting the winner of the Pollock-Simpson contest.

To date, the Giants have downed Ruston and walloped Sikes twice for three victories, while losing single contests to Grayson, Neville of Monroe and Simsboro.

An "also ran" in District 3-AA competition last season, the Giants are hopeful for better things this campaign but face a tough opponent in getting their district campaign off the ground.

Next week will be spent on the road with trips by the boys and girls to Toga Dec. 9 and to Columbia Dec. 11. The following week Enterprise high school's boys and girls will visit Jena Dec. 16 and efforts are being made to arrange games for a presently open date on Dec. 18.

Newcomer Leesville, added to the district this past football season, will visit Jena Friday, Jan. 9, for a boys and girls basketball double header and the Vernon parish crew promises to be extra-tough in basketball this year, as usual.

Yanks To Buy Richmond Club Of Int. League

RICHMOND (AP)—The world champion New York Yankees will buy and operate the Richmond franchise of the International League.

The announcement, made jointly Friday by Richmond President E. Claiborne Robins and the Yankees, who have had a working agreement with the Triple A team for the past three years, ownership of three minor league clubs. The Detroit Tigers are the only other American League club that owns three minor teams.

The Yankees obtained an option to buy the Virginians, now operated by six local businessmen, last October.

"It has been agreed," the joint announcement said, "that the terms and conditions of the options are fair and reasonable. The New York Yankees will exercise their option upon completing various details."

LAMAR CLARK

Kayo Kid Stops Six In One Night

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—In 11 months of pro fighting, Lamar Clark has won 27 fights, 26 of them by knockouts. Sounds incredible?

Well, this same mild-appearing heavyweight from Cedar City, Utah, flattened six opponents in one session in the fighting time of nine minutes.

Impossible? One of the six, according to the Kayo Kid, was kayowed in seven seconds.

The six-in-one bargain last Monday night at Bingham, Utah, was just the windup of the Inter-mountain Heavyweight Championship. Lamar had belted out two guys at Kanab Friday and a third at Bingham Saturday, making nine in three nights.

For winning the tournament—which should have been billed "Lamar Clark against the World"—the all-around athlete received $250 and a trophy.

That's a pro?
"Couple of times I've fought for nothing," said Clark, who visited New York to appear on a television show.

"After the promoters paid off the other guys, some of them from California, there just wasn't anything left," explained Clark. "I don't mind now, I figure I'm getting experience now and I'll make it up later. Like the night I collected $300."

Lamar mentioned that $300 like a guy who had just won a big sweepstakes.

"I got that $300 for knocking out three guys in one night. That was at Salt Lake City the night Gene Fullmer knocked out Joe Miceli (Nov. 10). I got $100 for each kayo."

Clark, 24, is a stablemate of Fullmer, the former middleweight champion. Both are managed by Marv Jonson of West Jordan, Utah. Lamar doubles up by working on Jonson's mink ranch.

He is 5-10, weighs 185, and in street clothes looks like a clerk. He is a dark blond with an oval

Evashevski In Line For Large Salary Increase
IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Iowa football Coach Forest Evashevski is in line for a sizeable increase in his $17,500 salary, one that might make him the highest paid coach in the Big Ten.

and Dave Liste's fourth. Northeast's sensational freshman, Don "Buddy" Eiland, finished second. Chisholm ran the approximate 3.4-mile race in 16:02.3 to Eiland and Louisiana Tech's Don Martin set a blistering pace over the first mile with Eiland running the first quarter in 60.5

the half in 2:13 and three-quarters in 3:32. Chisholm held back in the early stages and pushed ahead later in the race to win the event over Eiland while Martin faded to sixth. Northeast's veteran star, Jack Williams of Tallulah, finished fifth with Buddy McCullen eighth, Bill Frye ninth and Bob Jaenicke 12th.

Coach Lew Hartzog's Indian cross country team thus ended its 11-meet season with nine wins and two losses. The Redskins fell to McNeese and Tech in regular season runs. Eiland finished with eight first places in 11 races.

The finishers:
1. Lynn Chisholm, McN, 16:02.3
2. Don Eiland, NE, 16:09
3. Jack Frater, McN, 16:22
4. Dave Liste, McN, 16:25

Clark turned pro last Jan. 4 under Jensen. He beat John Hix in a six-round bout. Hix was the only fighter to go the limit with him. "That six knockouts in one night tied a record set by Jack Dempsey," Clark said proudly. "He did it in Bingham, too."

FESTIVAL AT NATCHITOCHES

Bowl Football, Regular Season Contests Conflict

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The beginnings of post-season bowl football and the end of the regular college season conflict Saturday.

Although a number of games already played have borne the "bowl" tag, the first of the real extra events are Saturday's Christmas Festival Bowl game between Northwestern Louisiana State and Sam Houston, Tex. State at Natchitoches, La., and the semifinals of the NAIA championship series.

Still a part of the regular season are the Boston College vs. Holy Cross, Miami, Fla., vs. Oregon and Utah vs. Hawaii contests. The first two will be televised by NBC-BC-Holy Cross in the New England and Middle Atlantic states only and Miami-Oregon over the rest of the nation.

The National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics playoffs are to decide the contestants in the NAIA Holiday Bowl game at St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 20.

Saturday's semifinals match Gustavus Adolphus of Minnesota and Arizona State College of Flagstaff at Tucson, Ariz., and St. Benedict's of Kansas and Northwest Oklahoma State at Tulsa, Okla.

These teams were selected as the best of a large group of small colleges which have played this season under a different set of rules from those of the NCAA. The NAIA code permits free substitution and doesn't include the two-point conversion.

Since these games must be played to a decision, the Tucson rivals have agreed to play a 15-minute extra period if they're tied at the end of regulation time. If that doesn't break the deadlock, they'll settle it on the basis of net yardage. At Tulsa the yardage yardstick will be used without overtime play in case of a tie.

The Miami Hurricanes, losers in eight of nine games so far, may unveil next season's offense against defensively strong Oregon (4-4). Coach Andy Gustafson admits that his drive series, very successful in the past, has become outmoded. He's expected to try a pro-type offense, featuring passes and trap plays.

The Holy Cross-Boston College

game, one of a series dating back to 1896, recalls one of football's memorable upsets. That was in 1942 when the Crusaders hung a 35-12 shanty on the collective eyes of the BC Eagles, who had been unbeaten and hailed by their own coach as the equal of any pro team.

Holy Cross (6-2) is favored to make it three straight over BC (6-3) largely because Tommy Greene, a superb passer, is fit for action while the Eagles must go without injured Don Allard, another fine quarterback.

Utah (3-7) meets Hawaii in a game that is an exception to the NCAA 10-game limit. In order that Hawaii can see some mainland teams, such visits aren't counted against the visiting team's quota.

6-1, 6-1 Friday.
All four Americans made it to the round of 16 in singles. Crawford, close to defeat against 29-year-old Brian Tobin, pulled out a 4-6, 6-1, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3 decision. Big Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, dropped the first set 6-8 to Wayne Reid, then came back strongly to win the next three 6-3, 6-3, 6-0. Peruvian Alex Olmedo won in straight sets from Doug Reid 12-10, 6-3, 6-4.

Crawford was expected to howl out of the tournament Saturday when he faced the favorite, Wimbledon and Australian champion Ashley Cooper. The young Californian praised by Davis Cup captain Perry Jones as having "played with a lot of courage" against Tobin, just doesn't have the game to worry Cooper. The Australian champ breezed through a 6-2, 6-3, 7-5 second round victory over Fred Stolle.

Buchholz suffered a pulled thigh muscle in the second set of his second-round match against Alan Lane of South Australia. How much the injury might hamper him couldn't be told. He finished Friday's singles match in a halting fashion, winning 6-1, 6-1, 6-4, and he seemed troubled in a later doubles match in which he and 17-year-old Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif., lost to Paul Hearnden and Graeme Stewart, 3-6, 8-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Buchholz proved last week in Sydney, where he went to the final of the New South Wales championships, that reputations don't bother him. He has been playing a confident brand of tennis that might upset Fraser, who is battling for a place on the Australian Davis Cup team. If that happens, the St. Louis youngster's chances of playing in the Cup singles will look very bright.

Fraser beat Cedric Mason, 6-2,

BASKETBALL

Cincinnati, Kansas State Top Pre-Season Rankings

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cincinnati, has lost two starters from last season but still has an excellent supporting cast for Rob-ertson including backcourt ace Mike Mendenhall and Ralph Davis. The starting lineup has no man bigger than six-six, but also none smaller than six-four.

Only four of the top 10 in the pre-season ratings also were in the top 10 at the close of last season. These, and their positions then, were West Virginia (No. 1), Cincinnati (No. 2), Kansas State

(No. 4), and Notre Dame (No. 7). If the coaches' forecasts are correct, these will be the conference champions this season: Missouri Valley—Cincinnati; Big Eight—Kansas State; South-ern—Kentucky; Big Ten—Michigan State; Pacific Coast—Washington; Southern—West Vir-ginia; Atlantic Coast—Maryland; West Coast—St. Mary's; South-ern—Texas Christian; Skyline—Cincinnati (No. 2), Kansas State—Wyoming, and Ivy—Dartmouth.

TONIGHT

Grambling Hosts Philander Smith

GRAMBLING, La. (Special)—The Grambling College Tigers will open their 1958-59 basketball season here Saturday night against the Philander Smith Panthers. The game will be a non-league scrap for Grambling, a Southwestern Conference contender.

The championship hunt in the Southwestern loop is expected to be rugged, hard-fought and undecided until the late stages of the season. But early-season pickers who employ a futuristic system, have already labeled Coach Fred Hobdy's outfit as one of the hot favorites. The other two are Texas Southern and Southern University. An examination of Grambling's resources prompts the selection. The Tigers have extraordinary size, speed, a strong bench and superlative shooting.

Grambling swept through such top-ranked fives as Tennessee State, Lincoln University, Texas Southern, Jackson State and North Carolina A & T last season, and the current squad, with a little luck, promises to be as strong. The biggest obstacle would be overconfidence.

Regardless of whether they finish at the top of the heap or in a contending position, the Tigers will be an interesting team to watch. Playing in a new conference after capturing the Mid-West title and NCAA regional honors in '57-'58, Grambling will attract the general approval of Southwestern coaches and fans with a race-horse fastbreak attack.

The team's greatest assets are James Hooper, a fiery all-American candidate who shot 778 points in 31 games, Jerry Barr, and center Howard "Jim Dandy" Willis. One of the most versatile big men in the game.

Barr scored 618 points last winter and Willis scored 406 to give the Tigers an almost unstoppable scoring trio if they are surrounded by a competent cast of veteran associates. The list includes Jimmy Dunbar, Roy Timpel, Roy-bert Morrison, Allen Isle, and newcomers Charles Hardnett and Ronald Higgins.

FOR PRACTICAL PRICE

Detroit Looking For Dream Coach

By TOM DYCARD
DETROIT (AP)—Openly hungry for national football prominence, the University of Detroit is looking for a dream football coach carrying a practical price tag.

Football's big names—ranging from Frank Leahy to Otto Graham—are mentioned by boosters, onlookers and newsmen as possibly the most likely candidates to lead the Titans to the peak. None has been approached formally yet.

But Father C. J. Steiner, a bald, bespectacled Jesuit priest who is both president of the university and its most rabid football fan, has a list of qualifications that indicate a lesser-known name likely will get the job.

"Without a doubt Father Steiner, a former football lineman at Detroit, will cast the principal vote on the successor to Wally Fromhart, who was fired Tuesday when he could do no better than 4-4-1 in his fifth season.

In effect, Father Steiner is athletic director, a one-man faculty athletic committee and the schools' No. 1 booster.

"The new coach must be professionally competent," he said. "Yes, his coaching competence and his administrative competence must have been proved."

He added pointedly: "All I know about Otto Graham is that he has coached only one football game in his life—the All-Star Game last summer."

In Father Steiner's system of having directors of individual sports instead of one over-all athletic director, the new football and experienced—athletic administrator.

He said the new coach "must be able to understand young people as they are today. Young people have changed even since Leahy's time (1941-53 at Notre Dame)."

Big name coaches like long-term contracts, and Father Steiner stands firmly for one-year coaching appointments—"like the appointments of most of the other members of the faculty."

Another factor that makes the Detroit job less attractive to a coach with a reputation for winning is Father Steiner's determination to hold fast to scholastic standards. He is opposed to easy courses for athletes and is against any loosening of entrance requirements.

LAMAR CLARK

Kayo Kid Stops Six In One Night

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—In 11 months of pro fighting, Lamar Clark has won 27 fights, 26 of them by knock-outs. Sounds incredible?
Well, this same mild-appearing heavyweight from Cedar City, Utah, flattened six opponents in one session in the fighting time of nine minutes.
Impossible? One of the six, according to the Kayo Kid, was kayoed in seven seconds.
The six-in-one bargain last Monday night at Bingham, Utah, was just the windup of the Inter-mountain Heavyweight Championship. Lamar had belted out two guys at Kanab Friday and a third at Bingham Saturday, making nine in three nights.
For winning the tournament—which should have been billed "Lamar Clark against the World"—the all-around athlete received $250 and a trophy.
That's a pro?
"Couple of times I've fought for nothing," said Clark, who visited New York to appear on a television show.
"After the promoters paid off the other guys, some of them from California, there just wasn't anything left," explained Clark. "I don't mind now. I figure I'm getting experience now and I'll make it up later. Like the night I collected $300."
Lamar mentioned that $300 like a guy who had just won a big sweepstakes.
"I got that $300 for knocking out three guys in one night. That was at Salt Lake City the night Gene Fullmer knocked out Joe Miceli (Nov. 10). I got $100 for each kayo."
Clark, 24, is a middleweight fighter, the former middleweight champion. Both are managed by Marv Jensen of West Jordan, Utah. Lamar doubles up by working on Jensen's mink ranch.
He is 5-10, weighs 185, and in street clothes looks like a clerk. He is a dark blond with an oval

FESTIVAL AT NATCHITOCHES

Bowl Football, Regular Season Contests Conflict

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The beginnings of post-season bowl football and the end of the regular college season conflict Saturday.
Although a number of games already played have borne the "bowl" tag, the first of the real extra events are Saturday's Christmas Festival Bowl game between Northwestern Louisiana State and Sam Houston, Tex. State at Natchitoches, La., and the semifinals of the NAIA championship series.
Still a part of the regular season are the Boston College vs. Holy Cross, Miami, Fla., vs. Oregon and Utah vs. Hawaii contests. The first two will be televised by NBC-BC-Holy Cross in the New England and Middle Atlantic states only and Miami-Oregon over the rest of the nation.
The National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics playoffs are to decide the contestants in the NAIA Holiday Bowl game at St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 20.
Saturday's semifinals match Gustavus Adolphus of Minnesota and Arizona State College of Flagstaff at Tucson, Ariz., and St. Benedict's of Kansas and Northwest Oklahoma State at Tulsa, Okla.
These teams were selected as the best of a large group of small colleges which have played this season under a different set of rules from those of the NCAA. The NAIA code permits free substitution and doesn't include the two-point conversion.
Since these games must be played to a decision, the Tucson rivals have agreed to play a 15-minute extra period if they're tied at the end of regulation time. If that doesn't break the deadlock, they'll settle it on the basis of net yardage. At Tulsa the yardage yardstick will be used without overtime play in case of a tie.
The Miami Hurricanes, losers in eight of nine games so far, may unveil next season's offense against defensively strong Oregon (4-4). Coach Andy Gustafson admits that his drive series, very successful in the past, has become outmoded. He's expected to try a pro-type offense, featuring passes and trap plays.

Earl Buchholz Injured, U.S. Chances Drop

By GORDON TAIT
MELBOURNE (AP)—Limping, pain-wracked Earl Buchholz and two of his American Davis Cup teammates faced the possibility of elimination for Saturday in the third round of the Victorian Tennis Championships at Kooyong.
The 18-year-old hopeful from St. Louis, seeking a singles berth in the coming Cup matches, faced Neale Fraser, the steady Australian southpaw, in the key singles match of the day.
Buchholz suffered a pulled thigh muscle in the second set of his second-round match against Alan Lane of South Australia. How much the injury might hamper him couldn't be told. He finished Friday's singles match in a halting fashion, winning 6-1, 6-1, 6-4, and he seemed troubled in a later doubles match in which he and 17-year-old Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif., lost to Paul Hearnden and Graeme Stewart, 3-6, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Cincinnati, Kansas State Top Pre-Season Rankings

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cincinnati, has lost two starters from last season but still has an excellent supporting cast for Rob-ertson including backcourt aces Mike Mendenhall and Ralph Da-ball teams Wednesday in the an-nual pre-season ratings by the United Press International Board of Coaches.
Cincinnati was the clear-cut choice of the coaches as the top team, getting the first-place votes of 23 of the 35 famous coaches making up the board, whose ratings have achieved general recognition as the most authoritative in the college field.
Oscar Robertson, who won All-America honors and the national scoring championship with an average of 35.1 points per game as a sophomore last year, was the No. 1 reason for Cincinnati's poll popularity. "Big O" opened his season Monday night with 41 points in a 91-68 romp over Florida State and on Thursday night against NYU will be shooting at the Madison Square Garden scoring mark of 56 points he set last year.
Big Bob Boozer, who tallied 45 points Monday night in a 96-83 triumph over Purdue, is Kansas State's big gun.
Cincinnati received 319 points out of a possible perfect score of 350 in the ballot, with points awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for coach's votes from first through 10th place. Kansas State, which defeated Cincinnati, 83-80, in the second round of last year's NCAA tourney, had 249 points.
Following came Notre Dame in third place with 146, NCAA champion Kentucky fourth with 135, Michigan State fifth with 127, Washington sixth with 126, last year's regular season champion West Virginia seventh with 90, National Invitation Tournament champion Xavier of Ohio eighth with 86, Oklahoma State ninth with 85, and St. John's 10th with 80.
Of the 12 first-place votes missed by Cincinnati, four went to Kansas State, three to Kentucky, two to Notre Dame, and one each to Washington, West Virginia, and North Carolina.
Cincinnati's selection as No. 1 was greeted with a groan by Bearcat Coach George Smith, true to the game's "crying towel" tradition.
"That's terrible," said Smith. "I don't see how they can do that."

Phillies Won't Televis Tilt Into New York

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies won't televise their National League games into New York City next season, Bob Carpenter, Phillies president, said Friday.
"The baseball television market is overcrowded," said Carpenter. The team will continue to televise away games and some home games into the Philadelphia area, however.
Last season, the games were in competition with the American League home games of the New York Yankees. According to several television rating systems, the Phillies' games never were able to match the audience attracted to New York Yankee telecasts.
The Evening Bulletin quoted "outside sources" as saying one Phillies' decision to discontinue of the prime reasons behind the televising their games in New York was a threat by the Yankees to channel their games into Philadelphia.

Cassady Sprains Ankle; May Miss Sunday's Game

DETROIT (AP)—Howard Cassady, running back for the Detroit Lions, suffered a sprained ankle in practice Friday and may be sidelined for Detroit's National Football League game here Sunday with New York.
Dr. Richard Thompson, team physician, said X-rays indicated no fracture and that Cassady probably will sit out the Giants game. However, he said Cassady should be ready to play in the Lions' season finale against the Chicago Bears Dec. 14.

Evashevski In Line For Large Salary Increase

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Iowa football Coach Forest Evashevski is in line for a sizable increase in his $17,500 salary, one that might make him the highest paid coach in the Big Ten.
One figure mentioned—$20,000 a year—would make him a step ahead of Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes who is believed to be slightly under that figure.
A university source said also that Evashevski's assistants are expected to be recommended for salary increases.
Evashevski, whose Iowa teams twice have won Big Ten championships and trips to the Rose Bowl, has eight more years to go on his 10-year contract.

GREETING GUESTS AT THE ENTRANCE of the Bates home on Point Drive for a Coffee Hour on Wednesday afternoon are Mrs. Weldon Bates and

Mrs. Morris Phillips. One of the first guests to arrive is Mrs. Robert Evans, pictured.

Coffee Hour Given By Mrs. Bates-Mrs. Phillips

Mrs. Weldon Bates and Mrs. Morris Phillips entertained with a beautiful Coffee Hour in the Bates home on Point Drive Wednesday morning. A large gold urn filled with an arrangement of pyracantha stood near the outside entrance.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. W. E. Smith Jr. and Mrs. Guy Dupriest and presented to Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Phillips. Mrs. Phillips was becomingly dressed in a turquoise wool blouse with matching ear rings and beads. Mrs. Bates wore a lovely black all over tulle silk blouse with two strands of pearls and a gold and white Christmas tree with gold balls stood in the living room, the packages underneath were wrapped in gold paper. The coffee table held white lighted tapers surrounded by golden balls.

The serving table in the dining room held an imported white linen cut work cloth and the centerpiece was an arrangement of white carnations and gold sprayed eucalyptus branches in a Revere silver bowl. At one end of the table there was a silver coffee service and at the other end a silver five branched candelabrum holding white tapers and entwined with a rope of golden grapes. Pouring coffee in the dining room and alternating were Mrs. L. G. Wilkinson and Mrs. T. H. Wood. Serving in the dining room were Mrs. Walter Knapp, Mrs. W. O. Webb, Mrs. Jack Tom Jackson and Mrs. N. Klam. Spiced Russian tea was served in the beautiful solarium facing the Bayou. The table was covered with an exquisite linen cutwork cloth and held an arrangement of a single large gold reindeer in a field of white carnations and white tapers surrounded by gold balls. Mrs. Howard Rivers and Mrs. R. W. Dickenhorst alternated at the silver tea service, while Mrs. Alvin Andrews, Mrs. Arthur Kite, Mrs. Faheam Cannon and Mrs. Burchill Liles served.

Delegates Attend FHA Meet In Baton Rouge

Neville High School delegates left Monroe Friday morning for Baton Rouge, to attend the State Future Homemakers of America Convention at the Capitol House this weekend. The Neville Chapter will be represented by Pat Ford, Sandra Burford, Judy Reagan, Rena Conaway and Patty Prophet. Penny Deen was placed on the ballot as candidate for State historian. Mary Lynn Armstrong of the local club will be featured soloist in a skit commemorating the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the State organization. The group will be accompanied by two mothers, Mrs. J. A. Armstrong and Mrs. W. A. Conaway and faculty sponsor, Mrs. Daisy Daniels.

Approximately 1,600 delegates from 361 organized chapters of the FHA will be present December 5-6, according to Lela A. Tomlinson, state adviser. The Future Homemakers of America is an organization of high school girls dedicated to an over-all goal of helping girls improve personal, family, and community living now and in the future.

The theme of the conference, "Teens With A Purpose," will place special emphasis on (1) "Becoming Better Citizens," (2) "Improving Our Human Relations and Broadening Our Spiritual Values," and (3) "Appreciating Our Heritage." State officers include: President, Nanny Peabody, Baton Rouge Senior High School; Vice-president, Tonnie Jean Stockstill, Joseph M. Davidson High School, St. Joseph, Louisiana; Secretary, Edith Ann Talley, Haynesville High School; Treasurer, Sylvia Malbrough, Waterproof, Louisiana; Parliamentarian, Mary Fay, Louisiana; Kaplan High School; Historian, Essie Gill, Albany High School; Reporter, Jackie Foret, Litcher High School and song leader, Evelyn Hall, Mansfield High School.

The special guest speakers include the Reverend Bruce Evans, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, who will speak on the subject "You." State Superintendent of Education Shelby M. Jackson will extend greetings and the conferees will be welcomed to Baton Rouge by Mayor Jack Christian. Highlights of the convention will include a tea celebrating twenty-five years of club work, a luncheon honoring State and District Officers and their advisers, conferring of State Honorary Memberships and State Homemaker Degrees, the election of officers

Wilkerson Home Setting For LaVingt Club

Members of the LaVingt Book Club enjoyed a delightful afternoon when they met December 3 in the home of Mrs. William Wilkerson on Trenton Ave., West Monroe, Mrs. E. W. Cruse and Mrs. Walter Knapp were co-hostesses. The foyer, reception rooms and dining area were festive with beautiful arrangements denoting the approaching holiday season.

During the business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. George Y. Phebus, plans were completed for the club's annual Christmas project of supplying a needy family with food and clothing. One of the outstanding events of the club each year is the November Musicales presented and sister - in - law, Mr. and Mrs. Stacy McKnight of Killeen, Texas, and a niece, Betty Zane McGuffee of Enterprise and David Poole of Grand Isle. The young couple will make their home in Monroe where Mr. McKnight is employed.

ed by two of the members, so at that time Mrs. Walter Knapp, program chairman presented the artists, Mrs. William Wilkerson and Mrs. E. W. Cruse, who are talented and accomplished organist and pianist. The following program was graciously and ably rendered with Mrs. Wilkerson at the Hammond and Mrs. Cruse at the grand:

"The Student Prince"—S. Romberg; "Thine Alone"—"Gypsy Love Song"—V. Herbert; "Liebestraum"—Franz Liszt; "Meditation (Thais)"—Massenet; "A Christmas Meditation"—R. Molte; "O Little Town of Bethlehem"—L. H. Redner; "Away In A Manger"—W. Luther; "The Christmas Song"—F. Gruber; "Hallelujah Chorus"—from "The Messiah"—Handel.

At the conclusion of the musical, the hostesses served a delectable course to four visitors, Mrs. Thomas Hodge, Mrs. C. B. Smith, Miss Lynda Crowe, Mrs. Texie Lambert of Leesville, and the following members: Mrs. Bruce Brooks, Mrs. A. D. Bernhardt, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. Ralph Caldwell, Mrs. Wayne Warren, Mrs. Leon Sutton, Mrs. William Crowe, Mrs. A. Petrus, Mrs. W. O. Webb, Mrs. Tigner Conger, Mrs. T. H. Scott.

Miss Boddie Honored With Bridal Shower

Mrs. Perry Murray, Miss Nell Hale, Mrs. L. H. McVicker and Mrs. Lynn Wheelis were hostesses for a bridal shower honoring Miss Yvonne Boddie, bride-elect of Harvey Gene Hale.

This was held in the home of Mrs. Murray in Marion on Saturday November 29th from 2:00 until 5:00 o'clock. Matching colors of chrysanthemums were used throughout the house.

The honor guest was becomingly dressed in a red sheath dress and she was presented a white chrysanthemum corsage by her hostesses.

The serving table held an arrangement of white chrysanthemums in a crystal bowl. At one end of the table was placed a crystal punch bowl and on the opposite end were trays of petit fours and party sandwiches. Miss Nell Hale presided at the punch bowl.

Approximately 40 guests called during the hours. Many lovely gifts were presented Miss Boddie.

Miss Maria Varino Celebrates 16th Birthday

Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Varino honored their daughter, Miss Maria Varino, with a party celebrating her sixteenth birthday. This was held in the young peoples' lounge at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club on Thursday evening between the hours of 7:30 and 10:30.

Miss Varino wore a pale blue brocade with a fitted bodice and full skirt, it had a scooped out neckline and three quarter length sleeves. She wore an orchid corsage.

Dancing was enjoyed with music from the Juke Box.

The beautiful serving table was placed in front of the glass window overlooking the patio and pool. Two milk glass epergnes interlaced with red satin ribbon held arrangements of red carnations and Balsam foliage with pencil thin red tapers. These were placed at either end of the table, the silver punch bowl was placed in the center, trays of Petit fours were on the table. Forming a background were two large standards of native foliage and red berries.

Chaperones were Mrs. Lillian Davis and Dr. and Mrs. Varino. Fifty guests were present to enjoy this lovely party.

GREETING GUESTS AT THE ENTRANCE of the Bates home on Point Drive for a Coffee Hour on Wednesday afternoon are Mrs. Weldon Bates and

Mrs. Morris Phillips. One of the first guests to arrive is Mrs. Robert Evans, pictured.

Coffee Hour Given By Mrs. Bates-Mrs. Phillips

Mrs. Weldon Bates and Mrs. Morris Phillips entertained with a beautiful Coffee Hour in the Bates home on Point Drive Wednesday morning. A large gold urn filled with an arrangement of pyracantha stood near the outside entrance.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. W. E. Smith Jr. and Mrs. Guy Dupriest and presented to Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Phillips. Mrs. Phillips was becomingly dressed in a turquoise wool blouson dress with matching ear rings and beads. Mrs. Bates wore a lovely black all over tuckled silk blouson with two strand pearl tie and ear rings. A gold and white Christmas tree with gold balls stood in the living room, the packages underneath were wrapped in gold paper. The coffee table held white lighted tapers surrounded by golden balls. The serving table in the dining room held an imported white linen cut work cloth and the centerpiece was an arrangement of white carnations and gold sprayed eucalyptus branches in a Revere silver bowl. At one end of the table there was a silver coffee service and at the other end a silver five branched candelabrum holding white tapers and entwined with a rope of golden grapes.

Pouring coffee in the dining room and alternating were Mrs. L. G. Wilkinson and Mrs. T. H. Wood. Serving in the dining room were Mrs. Walter Knapp, Mrs. W. O. Webb, Mrs. Jack Tom Jackson and Mrs. N. Klam.

Spiced Russian tea was served in the beautiful solarium facing the Bayou. The table was covered with an exquisite linen cutwork cloth and held an arrangement of a single large gold reindeer in a field of white carnations and white tapers surrounded by gold balls. Mrs. Howard Rivers and Mrs. R. W. Dickenhorst alternated at the silver tea service, while Mrs. Alvin Andrews, Mrs. Arthur Kite, Mrs. Faheam Cannon and Mrs. Burchill Liles served.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Perhaps Taking Wrong Type Of Medication

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: My wife has me flunked anything, and I have never been in a drug store without being asked for a prescription. She has three nice children. Last January she began to get moody. She lost interest in her friends and refused to go out with a fellow. She used to love me. She got the jumpy and started crying. With the children, her only interest seemed to be cooking and cleaning the house.

In April she read an article about tranquilizer pills. When she bought in a drug store without a prescription. This boy was going out with her. Now she is pleasant and agreeable. She never utters a harsh word to the kids or me. The house however, hasn't been cleaned properly in weeks. Some times when I come home from work the beds aren't made and there's no supper. She plays cards almost every day and has put on weight.

I'm worried about her although she says she's never felt better in her life. Is this good or bad?—L.S.T.

Your wife is too darned tranquil for her own good. No one should take pills without consulting a doctor, even if they CAN be purchased without a prescription. Too, but so at once would be disastrous.

Perhaps your wife is taking the wrong type of medication, or too much of it. A complete personality change suggests that she may be eating the pills like popcorn. Pills or liquids which anesthetize the brain do not solve problems. They often create more. Insist that she see a doctor at once.

Dear Ann Landers: Do you think it's necessary for the parents of a 16-year-old girl to know the life history of every boy who takes her out?

I am an average student (never

Dear Ann Landers: I was sitting around feeling sorry for myself because tomorrow is my birthday and I just knew my husband wouldn't remember. Then I picked up the NAME OF PAPER and started to read your column.

Confidence is a strange thing. The letter from the woman whose husband never remembered special days was right there in bold print. I felt very sad for this woman because, naturally, I identified her with myself.

And then I read your wonderful answer. It really changed my whole way of thinking and I shall always be grateful. You said, "The best gift a husband can give his wife is year-round respect, loyalty and affection."

For the first time I realized I had all three, and suddenly I didn't care if he brought me a present or not. I know he loves me. Thank you, Ann.—LOVE

CONFIDENTIAL TO HARD LUCK HELEN: It's not your luck that's hard, Helen—it's your head. How many times must you learn the same lesson? Married men are poor marriage prospects. Look it off and change jobs. See him every day is no good.

Rehearsal Supper Given

Mr. and Mrs. William O. Causey of Bastrop, entertained Miss Betty Ruth Evans and Percy Thomas Causey recently with a rehearsal dinner in the Orchid Room of the Cerlies Cafe in Bastrop.

Miss Evans chose for this event a green wool sheath with black accessories and gold jewelry.

Mrs. Ira L. Evans, the bride-elect's mother, wore a blue crepe dress with tucked back and skirt with bow in the center back. Mrs. Causey, the groom-elect's mother, selected a lovely blue lace dress and slippers of the same shade.

The dining table was covered with a white cutwork cloth and the centerpiece was a lovely arrangement of white gladioli and mums with greenery intermingled.

Miss Evans took this occasion to present to each of her attendants a sterling chain with an attached drop pearl. Mr. Causey gave his attendants tie clasps.

Attending the dinner with Miss Evans and Mr. Causey and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Causey, were Miss Lucy Banks, Miss Jeanette Ford, Miss Ira Beth Causey, Mr. and Mrs. James Gilbert, Miss Susan Gilbert, Messrs. Joel Venable, Larry Stevens, Frank Smith, Taylor McNeel, Miss Ann Jones, Mrs. J. B. Snier, the Reverend and Mrs. Ray Rush and Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Evans.

Investigate Reasons For 6-Year-Old's Trouble

Today he came home half sick from crying, because he didn't work. I did not spank him, but made him go right to bed. I would appreciate your help. Maybe I am going at it all wrong."

ANSWER You are, definitely, if you imagine that spanking a child or putting him to bed will in any way facilitate his learning processes. It is more than possible that he can't finish his work in the specified time. If he can't, then he should be given more time.

Perhaps it would be well to explore the possibility that he does not hear or see as adequately as do the other children. These deficiencies are always hard to detect in the young child who has

YOUR PROBLEMS

Perhaps Taking Wrong Type Of Medication

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: My wife has been terribly worried. She's 44 and we have three nice children. Last January she began to get moody. She lost interest in her friends and refused bridge invitations which she used to love. She got jumpy and short-tempered with the children. Her only interest seemed to be cooking and cleaning the house.

In April she read an article about tranquilizer pills which could be bought in a drug store without a prescription. This changed her into a different person. Now she is pleasant and agreeable. She never utters a harsh word to the kids or me.

The house however, hasn't been cleaned properly in weeks. Sometimes when I come home from work the beds aren't made and there's no supper. She plays cards almost every day and has put on weight.

I'm worried about her although she says she's never felt better in her life. Is this good or bad?—L.S.T.

Your wife is too darned tranquil for her own good. No one should take pills without consulting a doctor, even if they CAN be purchased without a prescription. Aspirin can be had without a prescription, too, but 50 at once would be disastrous.

Perhaps your wife is taking the wrong type of medication, or too much of it. A complete personality change suggests that she may be eating the pills like popcorn. Pills or liquids which anesthetize the brain do not solve problems. They often create more. Insist that she see a doctor at once.

Dear Ann Landers: Do you think it's necessary for the parents of a 16-year-old girl to know the life history of every boy who takes her out?

I am an average student (never flunked anything) and I have never been in trouble. I think it's a rotten shame that parents don't show a little confidence in their kids and trust them. I'm getting fed up on the third degree every time I go out with a fellow.

Please put your answer in the paper. If you sent me a letter they would probably think I wrote it myself—JANE

What do you mean by "life history" and "third degree"? If you're asking if parents have the right to know the name of the boy you're going out with, how old he is, where he intends to take you for the evening, and what time he plans to bring you home—the answer is yes.

Parents who want to know these facts are not nosy. They simply have brains enough to pay attention to the company their daughter keeps. Want anything else answered in the paper?

Dear Ann Landers: I was sitting around feeling sorry for myself because tomorrow is my birthday and I just knew my husband wouldn't remember. Then I picked up the NAME OF A PAPER and started to read your column.

Coincidence is a strange thing. The letter from the woman whose husband never remembered special days was right there in bold print. I felt very sad for this woman because, naively, I identified her with myself.

And then I read your wonderful answer. It really changed my whole way of thinking and I shall always be grateful. You said, "The best gift a husband can give his wife is year-round respect, loyalty and affection."

For the first time I realized I had all three, and suddenly I didn't care if he brought me a present or not. I know he loves me. Thank you, Ann. — CON-TENTED

CONFIDENTIAL TO HARD LUCK HELEN: It's not your luck that's hard, Helen—it's your head. How many times must you learn the same lesson? Married men are poor marriage prospects. Lop it off and change jobs. Seeing him every day is no good.

Klansman Given Prison Sentence

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—An admitted Ku Klux Klansman was convicted Friday of bombing a Negro home, and sentenced to 10 years in prison by a jury which recommended probation.

The jury returned the verdict after deliberating more than five hours.

Judge Wallace Gibson said he would sentence the man, Hubert Eugene Wilcutt, on Jan. 9. Wilcutt was the first person to be brought to trial in connection with bombings of Negro homes and churches in Birmingham which began in 1948.

The jury could have called for a maximum sentence of death for bombing an inhabited dwelling.

Two other white men arrested with Wilcutt, after bombs were exploded in a former all-white residential section, are awaiting trial. The bombings occurred last July 17. Negro residents of the area seized and beat two white men before turning them over to police.

Defense attorney George Rogers in his closing remarks to the jury said that if it returned a guilty verdict, "You'll see Negroes spreading out like a cancer into every white community."

"Blood will flow in the streets of Birmingham," he declared. Prosecutor E. C. Watson said law and order must be maintained.

"Where did he (Wilcutt) get the right to fashion an instrument out of these eight sticks of dynamite and go out there in the nighttime to a neighborhood where he does not even live to take the law in his own hands?" Watson asked the jury.

"Rise, gentlemen, to the challenge of right," he urged.

Rogers said Wilcutt would ask for probation. The judge said that the jury recommendation for leniency was not binding upon the court.

Wilcutt said in one of two statements that he made to police that he was a member of an East Birmingham Ku Klux Klan group. He remained free on $5,000 bond.

Houdini Lambs Defy Fences To Block Traffic

ASHFORD, England (UPI)—Everywhere the autos went on a new million-dollar highway, James Keefe's lambs were sure to go.

Three times, Keefe's three lambs broke through fences on his property and blocked traffic on the new road. Authorities hailed Keefe into court. How come, asked the judge.

"They appear to be Houdinis," Keefe explained. "But shortly they will be turned into chops." The judge agreed that would be a good solution, but he assessed Keefe $21.00 in court costs.

NEW POLITICAL WEAPON

Soviets Ban Jobs To Curb Satellites

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst International communism, with its usual cynicism toward the workers whom it so boastfully claims to support, is developing a tactic of using deliberately created unemployment as a subversive political weapon.

The tactic made its appearance in Poland two years ago as a means of curbing that Eastern European satellite's move toward a measure of independence from the Kremlin line.

In the preceding years of Polish subjugation to the Communist line, violently conflicting principles of the heavily Catholic population, the Soviet Union had gotten the usual hammerlock on Polish commerce.

The country's trade was re-oriented to the East, making it dependent on Soviet and Communist bloc export outlets.

In 1956, almost simultaneously with the Hungarian revolution and a new crisis in relations between Russia and the Kremlin, brief rioting developed in Poland and was put down. But it set fire to the revisionist movement which actually installed a new government and achieved some advances in civil liberty.

The Soviet Union took no overt action as she had in Hungary, where spontaneous violence was met by ruthless double violence.

But she began to cancel contracts, creating an unemployment problem for the government and doubts in the minds of some people as to which side their bread was buttered on.

Since then the Warsaw government has been shipping back steadily into the old role as mouthpiece for international subversion.

One of the tactics used then was to halt work on previously ordered and partly constructed vessels in Polish shipyards, an important factor in Polish earnings.

Now that same tactic is being used in Finland, and has helped unseat a Helsinki government which had held the internal Communist movement at arm's length.

The ratio of unemployment to the Finnish worker pool is now about twice as bad as anything that happened in the United States during the recession.

Finland has been badly drained by payment of the reparations the Soviet Union demanded because the little country was dragged into the Germans into World War II.

Finland has paid and paid with goods. In doing so she has come heavily dependent on Soviet trade because she was unable to supply Western markets and lost them.

The current Soviet pressure drive resulted from the refusal of the last Helsinki government to take in any Communist representatives. The Kremlin will not be satisfied for the present until there are such representatives, nor for the future until they have taken complete control.

It is a fine example of just what uses the Communists intend to make of their current worldwide campaign for economic subjugation.

Area Man Aids In Annual Heart Fund Campaign

Plans for the 1959 Louisiana Heart Fund campaign this February were outlined at a New Orleans meeting Friday.

Convening was the state campaign committee of the Louisiana Heart Association. The group met at Delmonico's Restaurant.

Following the session, Dave L. Pearce of Baton Rouge, state Heart Fund chairman, said kick-off luncheons will be held in New Orleans, for South Louisiana, and in Shreveport, for North Louisiana.

The committee set up various special events for the month-long drive, and completed plans for the door-to-door collection on Heart Sunday, February 22.

Dr. Sanford W. Tutthill of Bogalusa, Louisiana Heart president, West Monroe, Joe McHugh of Jennings, Mrs. Drew Pearson of a goal of $270,000 has been established for the 1959 fund. Last Alexandria

Lower Portion Of Bayou Macon To Be Cleared

WINNSBORO (Special)—As one phase of the Boeuf, Tensas, Bayou Macon flood control project, the lower 25 miles of Bayou Macon (from four miles south of the bridge on the Winnsboro-New Orleans highway to the mouth of the river) is slated for channel clearing and snagging.

According to the U. S. Army engineering district at Vicksburg, which will have charge of the project, advertisement for bids for this work is scheduled to be made about April 1, 1959.

Right-of-way will be obtained by payment of one dollar plus an additional amount for damages done to the property, to each land owner in the affected area. The Tensas Basin Levee Board has already started work on securing the needed right-of-way.

At a meeting in the Northeast Louisiana Power Co-op building in Winnsboro Wednesday, persons owning property on the lower 25 miles of Bayou Macon were acquainted with the details of the right-of-way program and the plan of improvement of Bayou Macon.

Attending the meeting and presenting the informative program for the benefit of the property owners were Roy Snider of Delhi, president of the Tensas Basin Levee Board; C. J. Grayson of Fort Necessity, levee board member; M. O. King, Joe T. Reilly and Dave Dogan of the U. S. Army engineer district, Vicksburg, Miss. E. C. Geddes and Eugene Hopper with the Vidalia office, corps of engineers; and S. C. Smith and A. P. Andrews with the Louisiana department of public works.

February $220,000 was raised by Heart Fund volunteers.

Dr. Tutthill said the increase is needed to finance a stepped-up research program in the medical centers of the state.

Committee members who attended included Paul Aucoin, Jr. of Thibodaux, state department commander of the American Legion; Mrs. Joseph B. Wrenn of New Orleans, state governor of the Pilots Club; Mrs. Karl Kraak of Metairie, president of Louisiana Home Demonstration Clubs; Jerry Sylvester of Ville Platte, state president of the Future Farmers of America.

Other committee members who attended were Dr. Homer J. Dupuy of New Orleans, Dr. Roland Abegg of Hammond, Paul Beets of Bogalusa, Louisiana Heart president, West Monroe, Joe McHugh of Jennings, Mrs. Drew Pearson of a goal of $270,000 has been established for the 1959 fund. Last Alexandria

Segregation Leader Held By Officers

MEMPHIS (AP)—A Louisiana segregation leader was arrested Friday by vice squad men who said he was living in a downtown hotel with a 16-year-old Maryland beauty.

Police inspector W. P. Huston said Dale E. Birdsell, of Baton Rouge, La., would be held without immediate charge for full investigation. He said Birdsell and the girl were registered as man and wife.

Huston said Birdsell told officers he is a segregationist publisher and had come to Memphis to contact Ku Klux Klan members and strong segregationists.

The girl, whose identity was withheld, gave Harwood, Md., as her home town. She was turned over to juvenile court custody. Officers said her parents were en route here from Maryland.

Several suitcases full of race segregation literature were found in Birdsell's hotel room, Huston said.

There are now 27 whooping cranes (once almost extinct) wintering on the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas coast.

HOME BOMBER CONVICTED

Klansman Given Prison Sentence

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—An admitted Ku Klux Klansman was convicted Friday of bombing a Negro home, and sentenced to 10 years in prison by a jury which recommended probation.

The jury returned the verdict after deliberating more than five hours.

Judge Wallace Gibson said he would sentence the man, Hubert Eugene Wilcutt, on Jan. 9. Wilcutt was the first person to be brought to trial in connection with bombings of Negro homes and churches in Birmingham which began in 1948.

The jury could have called for a maximum sentence of death for bombing an inhabited dwelling.

Two other white men arrested with Wilcutt, after bombs were exploded in a former all-white residential section, are awaiting trial.

The bombings occurred last July 17. Negro residents of the area seized and beat two white men before turning them over to police.

Defense attorney George Rogers in his closing remarks to the jury said that if it returned a guilty verdict, "You'll see Negroes spreading out like a cancer into every white community."

"Blood will flow in the streets of Birmingham," he declared.

Prosecutor E. C. Watson said law and order must be maintained.

"Where did he (Wilcutt) get the right to fashion an instrument out of these eight sticks of dynamite and go out there in the nighttime to a neighborhood where he does not even live to take the law in his own hands?" Watson asked the jury.

"Rise, gentlemen, to the challenge of right," he urged.

Rogers said Wilcutt would ask for probation. The judge said that the jury recommendation for leniency was not binding upon the court.

Wilcutt said in one of two statements that he made to police that he was a member of an East Birmingham Ku Klux Klan group. He remained free on $5,000 bond.

Houdini Lambs Defy Fences To Block Traffic

ASHFORD, England (UPI)—Everywhere the autos went on a new million-dollar highway, James Keefe's lambs were sure to go.

Three times, Keefe's three lambs broke through fences on his property and blocked traffic on the new road. Authorities hailed Keefe into court. How come, asked the judge.

"They appear to be Houdinis," Keefe explained. "But shortly they will be turned into chops."

The judge agreed that would be a good solution, but he assessed Keefe $21.00 in court costs.

TEMPT FATE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—As two bandits were leaving a market after taking $350, one of them blithely told owner Leon Ratner to "go ahead and call the cops."

Ratner did just that and the two gunmen were arrested 15 minutes later.

RELATIVES FILE PAST COFFINS, RECEIVE COMMUNION

Grieving relatives of 27 pupils who perished in Our Lady of the Angels parochial school fire file past coffins Friday as Archbishop Albert G. Meyer administers communion to those kneeling. This was part of funeral Mass said in North-west side armory for some victims of Roman Catholic grade school fire Monday that cost 90 lives. (AP Wirephoto)

Area Man Aids In Annual Heart Fund Campaign

Plans for the 1959 Louisiana Heart Fund campaign this February were outlined at a New Orleans meeting Friday.

Convening was the state campaign committee of the Louisiana Heart Association. The group met at Delmonico's Restaurant.

Following the session, Dave L. Pearce of Baton Rouge, state Heart Fund chairman, said kick-off luncheons will be held in New Orleans, for South Louisiana, and in Shreveport, for North Louisiana.

The committee set up various special events for the month-long drive, and completed plans for the door-to-door collection on Heart Sunday, February 22.

Dr. Sanford W. Tutthill of Bogalusa, Louisiana Heart president, told the campaign committee that a goal of $270,000 has been established for the 1959 fund. Last Alexandria

NEW POLITICAL WEAPON Soviets Ban Jobs To Curb Satellites

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst

International communism, with its usual cynicism toward the workers whom it so boastfully claims to support, is developing a tactic of using deliberately created unemployment as a subversive political weapon.

The tactic made its appearance in Poland two years ago as a means of curbing that Eastern European satellite's move toward a measure of independence from the Kremlin line.

In the preceding years of Polish subjugation to the Communist line, violently conflicting with many of the fundamental principles of the heavily Catholic population, the Soviet Union had gotten the usual hammerlock on Polish commerce.

The country's trade was re-oriented to the East, making it dependent on Soviet and Communist bloc export outlets.

In 1956, almost simultaneously with the Hungarian revolution and a new crisis in relations between Poland and the Kremlin, brief rioting developed in Poland and was put down. But it set fire to the revisionist movement which actually installed a new government and achieved some advances in civil liberty.

The Soviet Union took no overt action as she had in Hungary, where spontaneous violence was met by ruthless double violence.

But she began to cancel contracts, creating an unemployment problem for the government and doubts in the minds of some people as to which side their bread was buttered on.

Since then the Warsaw government has been slipping back steadily into the old role as mouthpiece for international subversion.

One of the tactics used then was to halt work on previously ordered and partly constructed vessels in Polish shipyards, an important factor in Polish earnings.

Now that same tactic is being used in Finland, and has helped unseat a Helsinki government which had held the internal Communist movement at arm's length.

The ratio of unemployment to the Finnish worker pool is now about twice as bad as anything that happened in the United States during the recession.

Finland has been badly drained by payment of the reparations the Soviet Union demanded because the little country was dragged into the Germans into World War II.

Finland has paid and paid with goods. In doing so she has become heavily dependent on Soviet trade because she was unable to supply Western markets and lost them.

The current Soviet pressure drive resulted from the refusal of the last Helsinki government to take in any Communist representatives. The Kremlin will not be satisfied for the present until there are such representatives, nor for the future until they have taken complete control.

It is a fine example of just what the Communists intend to make of their current world-wide campaign for economic subjugation.

Lower Portion Of Bayou Macon To Be Cleared

WINNSBORO (Special)—As one phase of the Boeuf, Texas, Bayou Macon flood control project, the lower 25 miles of Bayou Macon (from four miles south of the bridge on the Winnsboro-Newellton highway to the mouth of the river) is slated for channel clearing and snagging.

According to the U. S. Army engineering district at Vicksburg, which will have charge of the project, advertisement for bids for this work is scheduled to be made about April 1, 1959.

Right-of-way will be obtained by payment of one dollar plus an additional amount for damages done to the property, to each land owner in the affected area. The Texas Basin Levee Board has already started work on securing the needed right-of-way.

At a meeting in the Northeast Louisiana Power Co-op building in Winnsboro Wednesday, persons owning property on the lower 25 miles of Bayou Macon were acquainted with the details of the right-of-way program and the plan of improvement of Bayou Macon.

Attending the meeting and presenting the informative program for the benefit of the property owners were Roy Snider of Delhi, president of the Texas Basin Levee Board; C. J. Grayson of Fort Necessity, levee board member; M. O. King, Joe T. Reilly and Dave Dogan of the U. S. Army engineer district, Vicksburg, Miss.; F. C. Geddes and Eugene Hopper with the Vidalia office, corps of engineers; and S. C. Smith and A. P. Andrews with the Louisiana department of public works.

Segregation Leader Held By Officers

MEMPHIS (AP)—A Louisiana segregation leader was arrested Friday by vice squad men who said he was living in a downtown hotel with a 15-year-old Maryland beauty.

Police inspector W. P. Huston said Dale E. Birdsell, of Baton Rouge, La., would be held without immediate charge for full investigation. He said Birdsell and the girl were registered as man and wife.

Huston said Birdsell told officers he is a segregationist publisher and had come to Memphis to contact Ku Klux Klan members and strong segregationists.

The girl, whose identity was withheld, gave Harwood, Md., as her home town. She was turned over to juvenile court custody. Officers said her parents were en route here from Maryland.

Several suitcases full of race segregation literature were found in Birdsell's hotel room, Huston said.

$100,000 Suit Filed For Death In Lions' Cage

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $100,000 suit was filed against the government Friday for the death of a Canadian girl in the lions' cage at the National Zoo here last May 16.

Julie Ann Voght, 2½ years old, a visitor from Chilliwack, B. C., was fatally injured when a lion pulled her through the fence at the zoo.

The suit was brought by Margaret Rhinchart Hood of Washington, D.C., a great-aunt of the victim, as administratrix of the child's estate.

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court, said the child's death was caused by neglect of zoo officials to provide adequate safeguards.

Europe Seeks To Stave Off Trade War

LONDON (AP)—The main nations of non-Communist Europe rushed preparations for special economic talks to stave off a trade war looming next year.

A British Treasury announcement Friday said the ministerial council of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation will meet in the near future.

The stated purpose is to discuss temporary working arrangements between the six members of the common market—which goes into business Jan. 1—and the remaining 11 other OEEC countries.

Behind the announcement lies a story of British-French economic rivalry. The British had proposed a small meeting of key European economic leaders to be held next week under the chairmanship of Britain's Reginald Maudling. But they have had to bow to France's insistence on wider talks to be presided over by Walter Hallstein of West Germany.

The threat of a trade war flows from the plans of the six common market countries to cut tariffs by 10 per cent and raise import quotas by 20 per cent among each other.

This will hit nations such as Britain which long marketed its cars, textiles and other consumer goods in the common market area, embracing France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

These six countries Thursday sent Ludwig Erhard, West German vice-chancellor, to persuade British leaders to accept a temporary plan designed to reduce possible discrimination to a minimum.

Erhard's proposals broadly envisaged a one-year arrangement whereby the 11 nonmembers could share some of the benefits of the lower tariffs, higher quotas being introduced by the six next year, and a method of negotiating a more lasting working arrangement between the two groups of nations.

The British government takes the view these proposals do not entirely rule out discrimination by the six against outsiders. It is also looking at possible protective measures—possibly barriers against the six—to cushion the national economy.

PROPOSE $3 MILLION BOND
THIBODAUX (UP)—The Lafourche parish school board plans to conduct a $3 million ad valorem bond election in order to build four schools and modernize existing schools in the parish. A New Orleans bonding company and two architectural firms have been retained by the school board to handle the bond election and prepare plans for the new buildings.

DISPENSE TWO ELECTIONS
BATON ROUGE (UP)—Secretary of state Wade O. Martin announced Thursday general elections in Bogalusa and Thibodaux have been dispensed by Gov. Earl Long.

$100,000 Suit

Filed For Death

In Lions' Cage

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $100,000 suit was filed against the government Friday for the death of a Canadian girl in the lions' cage at the National Zoo here last May 16.

Julie Ann Voght, 2½ years old, a visitor from Chilliwack, B. C., was fatally injured when a lion pulled her through the fence at the zoo.

The suit was brought by Margaret Rhinehart Hood of Washington, D.C., a great-aunt of the victim, as administratrix of the child's estate.

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court, said the child's death was caused by neglect of zoo officials to provide adequate safeguards.

Europe Seeks

Trade War

LONDON (AP)—The main nations of non-Communist Europe rushed preparations for special economic talks to stave off a trade war looming next year.

A British Treasury announcement Friday said the ministerial council of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation will meet in the near future.

The stated purpose is to discuss temporary working arrangements between the six members of the common market—which goes into business Jan. 1—and the remaining 11 other OEEC countries.

Behind the announcement lies a story of British-French economic rivalry. The British had proposed a small meeting of key European economic leaders to be held next week under the chairmanship of Britain's Reginald Maudling. But they have had to bow to France's insistence on wider talks to be presided over by Walter Hallstein of West Germany.

The threat of a trade war flows from the plans of the six common market countries to cut tariffs by 10 per cent and raise import quotas by 20 per cent among each other.

This will hit nations such as Britain, which long marketed its cars, textiles and other consumer goods in the common market area, embracing France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

These six countries Thursday sent Ludwig Erhard, West German vice chancellor, to persuade British leaders to accept a temporary plan designed to reduce possible discrimination to a minimum.

Erhard's proposals broadly envisaged a one-year arrangement whereby the 11 nonmembers could share some of the benefits of the lower tariffs, higher quotas being introduced by the six next year, and a method of negotiating a more lasting working arrangement between the two groups of nations.

The British government takes the view these proposals do not entirely rule out discrimination by the six against outsiders. It is also looking at possible protective measures — possibly barriers against the six — to cushion the national economy.

PROPOSE $3 MILLION BOND

THIBODAUX (UPI) — The Lafourche parish school board plans to conduct a $3 million ad valorem bond election in order to build four schools and modernize existing schools in the parish. A new Orleans bonding company and two architectural firms have been retained by the school board to handle the bond election and prepare plans for the new buildings.

DISPENSE TWO ELECTIONS

BATON ROUGE (UPI) — Secretary of state Wade O. Martin announced Thursday general elections in Bogalusa and Thibodaux have been dispensed by Gov. Earl Long.

SPUTNIK III?
NAHA, Okinawa (UPI) — Two American airmen Friday reported sighting what might have been the dying rocket of Russia's Sputnik III. Lt. Julian Miller, 22, of Ft. Sterling, Ky., and Airman Frank T. Waters, 22, of Denver, said they saw a brilliant flash and an orange-pink fireball at very high altitude early Friday morning.

SPUTNIK III?
NAHA, Okinawa (UPI) — Two American airmen Friday reported sighting what might have been the dying rocket of Russia's Sputnik III. 1st Lt. Julian Miller, 24, of Mt. Sterling, Ky., and Airman Frank T. Waters, 22, of Denver, said they saw a brilliant flash and an orange-pink fireball at very high altitude early Friday morning.
